Delay classes; fear of strike

Talks between Granite City teacher and board-administrator negotiating teams are continuing, but a strike atmosphere appears to be developing, sources close to the talks say.

The principal session held thus far took place Aug. 18. To allow more time for negotiations, and due to the present stands being "far apart," the School Board on Tuesday night delayed the scheduled opening of classes from next week to the following week.

The opening institute day for teachers was set for the Tuesday after Labor Day, Sept. 4, and the first day for students to report was set for Wednesday, Sept. 5.

A statement critical of the school officials and outlining teacher viewpoints was issued Tuesday afternoon. Attorney Harold Baker was authorized by the board Tuesday night to issue a statement presenting the district's negotiators' opinion.

The next talks are set for 7:30 tonight. Shirley Sioli, president of Local 743, American Federation of Teachers, said today that the proposal submitted Saturday was the first, and that immediate acceptance had not been expected.

"We expected a counter-proposal but received none," she commented.

She added that ending of a cost-of-living clause is sought by the board but not by the teachers. The local did indicate what it would expect in return for elimination of the clause, she related.

Harold Hillmer, chief negotiator for the district, told the board Tuesday night that it was decided not to make a counter offer—and instead to seek the board's instructions—because the district's team regarded the pay request as extremely high.

Hillmer denied that a "walk-out" occurred.

He said the request from Attorney Ray Freek was for more than $2.5 million, plus $500,000 to bring back about 40 laid-off teachers, later amended to $250,000 to rehire 20 tenured teachers.

He added that the local was told the board wanted to confer with the board and then contact 743 on Wednesday. Contact was made yesterday, resulting in tonight's meeting, both parties said.

The board adjourned Tuesday night after its five-hour meeting until 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 28.

Bill Smithson of the Wilson School PTA outlined his views on the negotiations during the public portion of the board meeting. The board then met in executive session to discuss the bargaining.

It was announced that talks will resume this afternoon with Building Service Employees Local 98 after cafeteria workers and custodians rejected a tentative pact. It called for raises of about 7 percent in each of the next two years.

Negotiations are to resume at 10 a.m. Saturday with secretaries, who are represented by Local 743.

Comments by Teachers' Local 743 Tuesday afternoon were as follows:

"The Granite City School Board negotiating team broke off negotiations with the teachers on the 1979-80 contract in the middle of a negotiating session Saturday, Aug. 18, without even negotiating a single salary proposal."

"The School Board had proposed a money offer to teachers which would have provided nothing more than the increment on the salary schedule, required by law, and an additional amount under an outdated cost-of-living article which would reimburse teachers for but half of the actual cost of living over the past year."

"When teachers responded with proposals designed to recapture serious teacher income losses over the last five years and to update the Cost of Living Article, the board walked out."

"Granite City teachers have been able to make up only slightly more than half of cost-of-living increases during the past five-year period."

"Teachers were particularly disturbed by the board's attitude in view of its past financial projections and representations with regard to school district finances."

"During 1979, the board had projected a financial doom for the district when, in fact, at the present moment, the board is out only $600,000 in tax anticipation warrants and by its own recently concluded June audit admittedly is sitting with more than $800,000 in cash, savings and investments."

"The board's audit further reflects an Education Fund balance of $4,623,491 as of June 30, 1979."

"Teachers feel that the community has no knowledge of the true financial condition of the district nor of the economic plight of teachers."

"Over 100 teachers were dismissed"

Woman is released after kidnap and assault here

A young married woman was kidnapped in Granite City, forced to take pills and then raped during a 3 1/2-hour ordeal which ended with her release at 1 p.m. Monday.

Police talked to the victim at 9 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was taken by her husband after being freed by her abductor in the parking area at Bowland Lanes, 5050 Nameoki Road.

The victim was forced into a car by a man as she walked to the Mister Donut shop, 3134 Nameoki Road, after parking her vehicle in the lot next door at Tri-City Radio Co., at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

The man had spoken to the victim as she went by, telling her to get into a car, but she ignored him and continued to walk toward the shop.

He then reached for her, placed his hand over her mouth and threw her on to the front seat of the car, she told police.

The man displayed a large hunting knife, pushed the woman to the floorboard of the vehicle and drove away.

After some time, the kidnapper forced the woman to swallow a pill which made her sleepy and relaxed, she said.

Eventually, he stopped the car forcing her to swallow a second pill and later gave her a third pill. She managed to place the third pill in her purse without being seen, she told officers.

She was kept on the car floor most of the time and was sexually molested at least once during the night hours.

Many details of what was occurring were hazy as she felt very sleepy, she reported.

Finnish student looking forward to school here

By CATHEY JAMISON of the Press-Record

Maarit Peitsara speaks with a delightful accent, and listens closely. She says Quad-Cityans talk too fast. She is a native of Finland and she is to be with us for the next year.

Maarit is 18 years old and a foreign exchange student sponsored by Rotary International, District 646. She will spend the next few months with Mr. and Mrs. Jay (Laverna) Corbitt and daughters, 2701 Denver St.

The young student arrived Aug. 16, after landing in New York City and boarding a plane for St. Louis. Of the Big Apple, Maarit remarked that it was "very big," a great change from the military installation outside of Jyväskylä, Finland, where she lives.

One of the first things Maarit said she noticed was the automobiles in this country. "There are so many big cars here," she said. "In Finland, everyone drives small ones. And here there are so many people driving alone. In my country we carpool a lot or take the bus."

Maarit's native country compares to the state of Minnesota in some ways. They have long hours of daylight, ac-

Ambulance fee raised

By HARRY BARNES of the Press-Record

The basic rate for inner-city ambulance calls by the Granite City Ambulance Service was increased by the City Council by 50 percent Tuesday night as a step toward meeting a sharp increase in salaries that will become effective Oct. 1.

Council members concurred in a recommendation by Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of the council's ambulance committee, that the present basic rate for an ambulance call within the city be raised from the present $50 to $75.

At the same time, Whitmer recommended and the council concurred in an increase of $25 per call for all service outside the city to locations in nearby townships and communities who receive ambulance service under contract with the Granite City service.

The hike in the rate for out-of-the-city calls is a 35.7 percent raise and increases the basic rate for those calls from the present $70 to $95.

Whitmer said the recommended increases involve only the basic rates and do not involve the present fee schedule as it pertains to additional mileage, hospital patient transfers and other operations.

The recommended rate increases stem from a meeting last week between the council's finance committee and ambulance committee to consider methods of meeting an anticipated 100 percent boost in salary costs for emergency medical technicians who operate the ambulances.

Payroll costs of the ambulance service will jump from its present $11,279 per month to $22,999 monthly for the remaining seven months of the city's fiscal year after Oct. 1.

That increase will result from new manpower guidelines that will eliminate manpower payments of $10,000 per year to medical technicians and require the city to pay the full $13,284 annual salaries of each technician.

This ruling will affect the present pay schedule of 14 Granite City EMTs who now receive $10,000 per year of their salaries from the Manpower program. This will mean an increase in salary cost of $140,000 per year to the city.

Fire Chief Don Parente said the ambulance service which is operated by the fire department now has 20 EMTs. Six of these already receive their full salaries from the city.

After approving the recommendation for higher rates, City Attorney Lance Callis was instructed to bring in an ordinance incorporating the raises.

McKinley sale

Want to buy a school situated in a central location, Madison Avenue and Iowa Street between 22nd Street and Niedringhaus Avenue.

The Granite City Board of Education decided Tuesday night to formally ask the Madison County Board of School Trustees to conduct an auction of the McKinley School building and site this fall. It was decided to set a minimum sale price, and the figure is to be agreed upon at a later meeting.

Washington School is being leased for the 1979-80 year to Belleville Area College, which has established a daytime college center.

The third elementary school closed as of this summer, Stallings, may be auctioned or leased. Nameoki Township would like to operate the building but lacks purchase funds and would need it to be conveyed as a gift, the school board was told.

Terms of a possible Stallings lease agreement are to be discussed by school administrators with the Madison County Adolescent Day Treatment Program, a new project administered by the county's Educational Service Region and the Madison County Mental Health Clinic (Alton Center).

Central Baptist Church also voiced interest in acquiring the rural area school.

A delegation representing the adolescent day program, included Sherman Sklar, president of its board of directors, and Dr. Jared Balmer, director. They said the center would be permanent, although initially funded for 1979-80 only. A second center would be established later in the Alton area.

Persons aged 13 to 21 would be educated and trained to overcome

Marijuana is target of sheriff

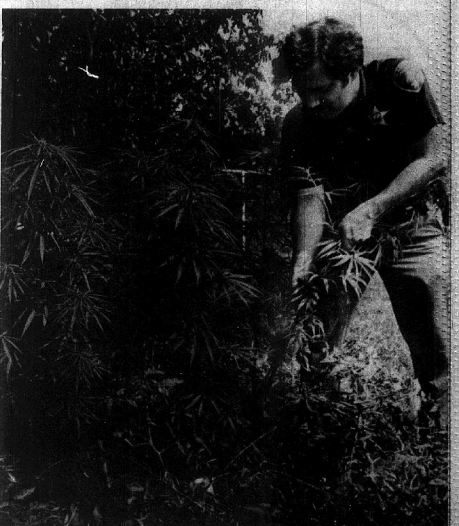

Marijuana and paraphernalia (left) were seized by Madison County sheriff's deputies Tuesday and were placed on the driveway of the home of Mrs. Pat Eaker, 2728 Angela Drive.

At right is Sheriff Deputy William Brave pulling up four-foot marijuana plants by their roots in the back yard of the Eaker home.

Arrested on warrants were three sons of Mrs. Eaker, David Wayne, 21, Gary, 18, and Bruce, 17. Also arrested was Richard Dollins of Granite City. The operation allegedly consisted of growing, drying and selling.

The paraphernalia included bottles and bags of seeds, a scale and several smoking apparatuses. The home is outside of the Granite City municipal limits.

Tax savings from gifts to children

Persons who are interested in setting aside money for the benefit of a minor might want to consider giving monetary gifts under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act.

Such gifts may include securities, life insurance policies, annuity contracts or money, according to the Illinois State Bar Association.

Under the Act, an individual may give up to $3,000 or a couple may give up to $6,000 to a child annually without any gift tax liability. For purposes of this

Use of steel mills topping 91% in '79

Domestic steel operations averaged a capacity utilization rate of over 91 percent for the first six months of this year — the first time it has sustained such a high level since the American Iron and Steel Institute began tabulating this statistic in 1975.

The capacity utilization rate for the first half of 1979 was 91.3 percent. The rate for the same period last year was 85.3 percent.

Capacity utilization for the month of June 1979 was 93.7 percent, compared with 91.1 percent for the previous June.

Domestic raw steel production during the first half of 1979 achieved a five-year high.

Mills in this country poured 71,440,000 tons of raw steel through June of this year. That was 4.7 million tons more than the 66,736,000 tons produced during the same period of last year.

It was the highest first-half total since 1974's 74,462,000 tons of raw steel production.

Of this year's first-half output, 43,480,000 tons came from basic oxygen furnaces, 17,439,000 tons from electric furnaces, and 10,522,000 tons from open hearths.

During June, 1,917,000 tons of raw steel were strand or pressure cast (produced through continuous casting processes), bringing the total for the first half of this year to 11,493,000 tons. These tonnages are included in total raw steel production.

It is easy to see the need of honesty in politics, in unions, and in professional leaders everywhere. It is also easy to offer solutions to these problems, as long as it is not our problem.

Delay classes

earlier this year when the board projected a $2,040,000 deficit for 1978-79. In fact, the actual deficit was slightly less than $400,000.

"Some of this was because of the board's transfer of money traditionally used in the Education Fund to the Transportation Fund."

"Teachers believe that the board's proposed budget for 1979-80 contains the same kind of inaccuracies."

"The minor deficits about which the district has complained are insignificant when one recognizes that during 1978-79 a short-term lack of cash, which caused the issuance of tax anticipation warrants, cost the district only $15,063 in interest while the district's investments during the same year earned $71,397 in interest."

"Teachers are prepared to negotiate their salary position, but they do not intend to permit the tremendous erosion of salary that the district has imposed over the past five years to continue."

Speaking for the Granite City School Board Tuesday night, Attorney Harold Baker said:

"The negotiating teams of the board and the teachers' union last met on Saturday, Aug. 18, the union made its first dollar demand."

"As pointed out below, that demand was so excessive that the board tentatively requested adjournment of the negotiations until it could report to the board and get instructions."

"Upon adjournment, the board team told the teachers that they would be called on Wednesday after the board meeting of Aug. 21 to set up another session."

"The teachers requested salary increases of approximately 26 percent per teacher. This would result in a raise of approximately $4,200 for nine months' work, a raise of about $460 per month."

"This would cost the district about $2.5 million in 1979-80."

"In addition, the teachers demanded that all 'laid off' tenured teachers be recalled, at an additional cost of $250,000."

"If the board conceded to these demands, it would cost the taxpayer who owns a home assessed at $10,000, valued on the market at $30,000, approximately $160 per year."

"The board's prior offer had been an average salary increase of $735."

"The union's demands are far in excess of the President's guidelines and the guidelines set by the School Board."

"The teachers' union has made little, if any, movement in their other demands."

"Because the parties are so far apart, the Board of Education has decided to delay the opening of school for pupils until Wednesday, Sept. 5, 1979. The teachers are to report on Tuesday, the 4th, for teachers' institute."

"The board's team will contact the union tomorrow (Wednesday) to arrange for future negotiating sessions," Baker concluded.

Smithson told the Board of Education, "This board has the responsibility of making policies and decisions that affect the education of our children."

"At the present time you are involved in negotiations with the personnel who are responsible for teaching our children."

"Since citizen participation is not allowed in negotiating a new contract and the issues, there are questions that keep crossing my mind, namely, what effect will this contract have on our children? Will the educational process in District 9 be improved?"

"Does this contract provide time for students to confer with teachers before and after classes?"

"Does it provide a clause that says a teacher must be adequately educated and trained when she teaches a subject such as mathematics?"

"Does it allow flexibility to allow an innovative approach to teaching?"

"Will this contract be beneficial to our children in helping them obtain a quality education and improve their educational skills?"

"All contract negotiations have two sides. In this case, the teachers are on one side, and the students on the other, with you as their representative."

"This contract should not be one-sided as far as benefits are concerned, but rather both sides should benefit."

"Being partial to children, I would like to see it in the students' favor."

"Our children deserve the best when it comes to education, and you have a duty to provide it," he told the board.

President

closed and cleared three hours prior to the estimated arrival times. Reopening for the public visit will occur two hours prior to scheduled arrivals. The public will be assisted at each of these locations by Corps of Engineers uniformed Park Rangers."

A spokesman said today that barriers will limit the area open to the public here, and that those who attend may get only a glimpse of the riverboat as it approaches from the north to enter Locks 27. While the president sometimes disregards advance plans and goes ashore, that was described today as extremely unlikely here due to light timing for the St. Louis talk and departure from Lambert Airport to return to Washington, D. C.

The Secret Service comment is, "Leaves parallel to the river in some areas and along the Chain of Rocks Canal will be restricted and patrolled during the transit times in the interest of security."

Mississippi River bridges' traffic will be halted momentarily as the boat passes beneath them."

White House representatives today encouraged Quad-Cityans to go to St. Louis to hear the president, arriving there as early as possible to park on streets or in garage buildings."

Mr. Carter will speak directly beneath the Arch after the Delta Queen docks on the St. Louis riverfront at 9 a.m. Friday.

It will pass under the Eads Bridge at about 8:40.

The gathering will be entertained by the St. Louis Youth Symphony orchestra starting at 8 a.m.

After the president proceeds to a platform and addresses the public, he will go in a 9:30 a.m. motorcade to Stan Musial and Biggie's Airport Hilton for a 10 a.m. reception of area leaders hosted by Mayor James Conway of St. Louis, Conway and Missouri Gov. Joseph T. Parnell will greet the president at the Arch.

A 10:30 motorcade from the Hilton to Lambert will complete a week-long vacation trip for Mr. Carter, who encouraged energy conservation at rallies and town meetings along the river."

Should local residents go to the lock area here? They can, federal authorities said, but may not even get to see Pres. Carter wave due to the distance and topography."

In summary, a long wait and gamble could pay off with a view of the president, but the odds are not good, they said, again urging a trip to the Arch area.

Two men arrested, held in disturbance at Kirkpatrick

Two men were arrested at 12:25 a.m. today in a trailer court at East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road, following an incident occurring almost two-and-a-half hours earlier in the 3300 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

Booked were a Granite City man, 21, on a charge of aggravated assault, and an Edwardsville man, 25, who formerly lived here, on charges of assault and battery.

The charges stem from a disturbance at the Kirkpatrick Homes at 9:50 p.m. Wednesday, when Gary Dugan of the 2200 block of Rock Road, who was visiting his sister there, reported a man had stuck a gun in his stomach during an argument.

Dugan said he had parked his car in the alley near his sister's apartment and was sitting outside, when a vehicle occupied by two men drove up, couldn't get past Dugan's auto and told him to move it.

Dugan said he was trying to move his car when the driver and passenger began yelling at him and alighted from the vehicle.

He alleged the pair bumped his car and threatened him and one man pulled a weapon out of the car and stated, "You move it or I'll put a hole in you."

Dugan said he got into his car and drove off into another part of the housing project with the two men following him.

When Dugan got to the 4600 block of Kirkpatrick Homes he found his way blocked and the driver of the following vehicle got out and began apologizing to him for the incident.

Simultaneously, a squad car arrived and the men left the scene.

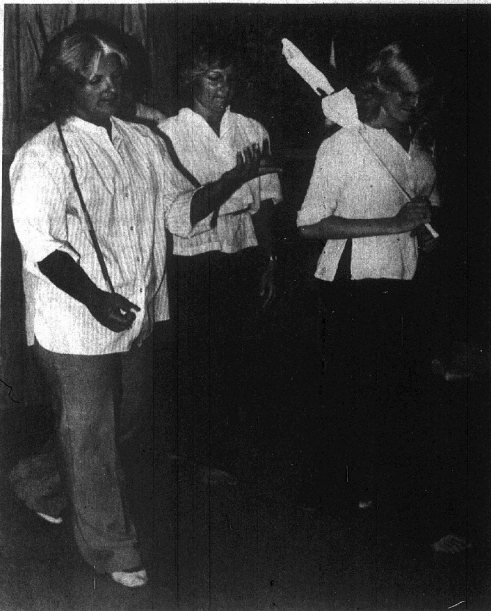

Two men answering the description of those involved, seen walking toward a car in the trailer court at East 23rd and Nameoki at 12:25 a.m. today, were approached by officers who had their weapons drawn.

The men were searched and a lockblade knife was taken from one man. Police also searched the car and a trailer they had been visiting without finding the gun allegedly used in the earlier incident.

Although involvement in certain incidents allegedly was admitted by one man, both denied having a gun.

At police headquarters, the Edwardsville man allegedly removed a brass chain necklace from his neck and threw it at a police sergeant, striking him under the left eye.

Both remain in custody today pending formal charges being filed.

ALAN DIXON

A proud politician

By AL MANNING
CHICAGO — If the voters of Illinois want their next U.S. senator to be a real politician, they have a prime candidate.

If the voters want a senator who knows how to wheel and deal, a senator who relishes the give and take of the government process, a senator who knows when to argue publicly with the other party and when to make the private telephone calls — they have a clear choice.

If the voters want a senator who knows when to keep pushing his views and when to back off, a senator who can stand up in debate and actually have the other members listen to him, a senator who knows how to get legislation approved and signed into law — they'll be able to cast a ballot for him on election day.

The candidate is Alan Dixon.

Dixon, of course, doesn't especially like to be identified as a "wheeler-dealer." That description carries far too much negative connotation. He likes to use the word "accommodations" in talking about legislative compromises.

"Accommodations" is a polite word, an acceptable word not eliciting much emotion from the citizens who don't like politicians.

Dixon certainly doesn't shrink when identified as a politician. In fact, he takes pride in his government experience.

In speaking appearances, he reminds listeners that he began his public career in the judicial branch as a police magistrate, then was elected to the legislative branch (both the House and Senate), then was elected to the executive branch (state treasurer and secretary of state).

Dixon's goal has always been the U.S. Senate, and he's on a whirlwind campaign schedule for the Democratic nomination for the Senate even though the primary election is eight months away.

One of the speeches he gave recently was to a group of 30 or so executives from Quaker Oats Co. in Chicago. The group, a good cross-section of mostly young junior executives, didn't appear to have strong affiliations to either party or any particular candidate.

After a brief speech emphasizing that the U.S. should depend less on foreign oil supplies and more on Illinois coal, he began answering questions.

If you've never seen Dixon give a speech in person, it might be a little difficult to understand his appeal. He doesn't always project that well on television, the radio doesn't quite capture it, and the newspapers can print the words, but not always describe the animation.

To begin with, there's usually some substance to his remarks. His voice varies up and down. He makes strong eye contact. He waves his arms. His humor has the timing of a good comedian.

"I know what the citizens of Illinois want," he says, pulling out of his coat pocket a marked-up schedule showing his travels across the state. "I'll be an aggressive exponent of Illinois views in the U.S. Senate."

"We need something like this (President Carter's proposed energy corporation) to get things done in this country. But I'm not an expert on energy. I've drilled 17 oil wells," and then after a perfectly timed pause, "and not hit any of them."

The crowd is with him. He's asked about his days "wheeling and dealing" in the state legislature.

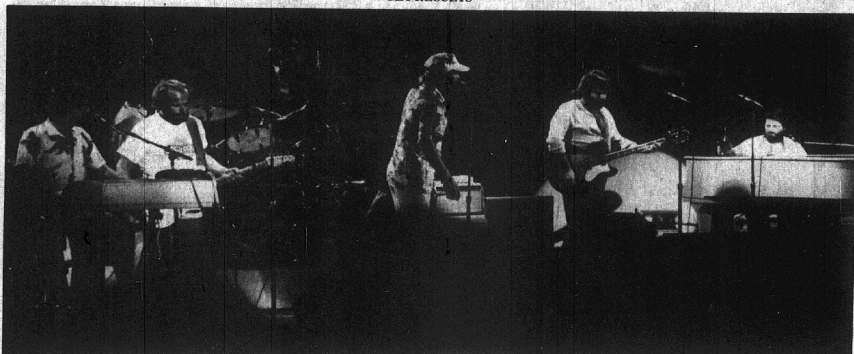

"I've spent all my life in accommodations," he says forcefully. "You've got to get 30 votes to pass a bill in the Senate. I get my bills approved, but they might not come out exactly as I proposed them."

He explains his technique. "You talk to Chicago," he says, setting an ash tray in front of him to illustrate a point. "You talk to Southern Illinois," he says, grabbing another ash tray. "They might change the bill a little bit. You go back to Chicago." He reaches over to set a glass next to the ash trays.

"You go to the suburbs." He adds a plate. "You go back to Southern Illinois. They don't like what the suburbs have added." He removes an ash tray. "Okay, forget the suburbs. We'll forge an alliance on this one between Chicago and Southern Illinois."

He walks the length of the table and brings back a couple ash trays to the pile. "Everything," he says, flapping his arms and pointing to the pile in front of him, "everything can be achieved by accommodation."

Dixon admits to being a politician. His experience in government will make him more efficient than any other person who wants to be a senator from Illinois. He knows how to get things done.

GOOD VIBRATIONS. In their second decade of performing, the Beach Boys appear at the Mississippi River Festival during the weekend. A crowd of more than 10,000 was treated to an evening of surfing songs of the '60s, which made the group world-famous. Lead singer Mike Love, at center with hat, and the other members of the band presented many of their older tunes several from their newest album, "L.A." This was the last concert for the 1979 MRF season as Chicago has cancelled its Sept. 1 performance.

A copy of the draft environmental impact statement may be inspected at the Granite City Public Library, 2001 Delmar Ave. The project is expected to cost from $63.4 million to $67.3 million, depending on the specific route selected. One potential route is 5.3 miles long and the other route is 5.5 miles long. Funding is 90 percent federal and 10 percent state.

GC Park Levy $472,140

The Granite City Park Board last night adopted a tax levy ordinance for 1979-80 totaling $472,140.

A breakdown of the levy shows $279,285 for the general corporate fund, $139,755 for recreation, $34,000 for the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund, $16,400 for liability insurance and $2,700 for audit expenses.

In other business the board accepted the low bid of $111,346 by the SEMCO Corp. for construction of Parkview Drive which encompasses Worthen Park on two sides.

The drainage and road surface work will fulfill a contract agreed upon with land developers in 1978. The developers own land adjacent to the park which is separated by the street.

Of the total, the park district will pay $61,339 or 55.9 percent.

The contract calls for each party to pay half the cost, but differences in the type of gutters being installed on the park side of the street makes the park district's share slightly more than half. The street will have a concrete surface.

Bids for the work were opened by the board on Aug. 16.

A second splatter party for the teenagers of the district is planned for Friday, Aug. 31. The party will begin at 7 p.m. and continue through 10 p.m. with disc jockey Henry Mulnik flipping records.

The concession stands and the swimming pool continue to report increases in receipts, the board was told.

Neighborhood Two of the Girls Scouts were given permission to hold a bicycle rodeo in Wilson Park on Saturday, Sept. 15. The girls will be riding around the perimeter of the park in a merit badge program.

Two picnic tables will be placed in Memorial Park across from St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Specialized Services, located a short distance from the park on Grand Avenue, requested the tables be put there for use by its clients for and outside lunch area and for the public's use.

Two tables will also be placed outside of the Lincoln Place Community Center.

The board was reminded that the park ice rink will open for its 11th season on Oct. 7. Also, the flag football season will begin on Saturday Sept. 22.

Your Social Security

Q. I was married for 13 years in the late 1950s. We separated, I filed for a divorce but the divorce was not final when he died.

My children received Social Security benefits but I didn't get any because I had filed for divorce.

I have since remarried but I hear the new law allows a remarried widow to receive benefits.

A. Having filed for divorce would not seem to be sufficient reason for denying benefits to you at the time of your husband's death. If you were working at that time or if the children were not living with you then it's possible you would not have been entitled to any benefits.

Regarding benefits to remarried widows, the law now states that if you are receiving widow's benefits, your checks will no longer be stopped or reduced if you marry at age 60 or later.

Q. From some stories I read recently it seems that Social Security administrators are coming down hard on SSI recipients particularly those who are living with relatives.

My mother is on SSI and we are thinking of having her live with us in our converted garage which is now a fully equipped small apartment.

How will this affect her SSI payments? — T.C.B.

A. The rental value of your converted garage would constitute in-kind support to your mother. This means that her SSI payment would be reduced by the fair rental value of the apartment.

If you charge your mother a monthly rental fee equal to the fair rental value of the apartment there would be no reduction in her SSI payment.

SSI payments are based on need and as long as the need exists, SSI recipients are entitled to those payments.

Q. I'll be 65 in November and would like to know how soon I can sign up for Medicare, F.S.

A. If you are already receiving Social Security checks you will receive a Medicare card prior to November.

If you are not receiving Social Security you have a seven-month period starting Aug. 1, 1979, and ending Feb. 29, 1980, in which to enroll.

Your coverage will begin Nov. 1, 1979, if you sign up in August, September or October. Signing up in November through February 1980 would delay your coverage from one to six months past November depending on the month of enrollment.

Nurse role in fight for emotional health

Nursing students interested in learning more about community mental health programs, primary prevention of mental illness, and the development of the nurse's role in these areas can enroll in an elective seminar for seniors offered by the SIUE School of Nursing during the fall quarter.

Primary Prevention in Community Mental Health Nursing (NURS 495) will be offered on Mondays from 10:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. The course has a clinical component which will be scheduled individually.

In addition to classroom lectures, students will serve a maximum of six hours weekly in a non-traditional setting where people with high-risk mental illness potential may be concentrated.

The course is designed to examine the mental health problems of certain target populations as identified by health leaders in southern Illinois communities, according to Patricia Forn, dean of the School of Nursing.

Students participating in the seminar will assist in developing programs to help reduce the incidence of new cases of mental disorders and disabilities in a given population. Focus will be on minority groups, children and the aged in both rural and urban surroundings.

Efforts will center on both modifying the environment and strengthening individual capabilities to cope with stressful situations. Evaluation of changes occurring as a result of preventive programs will also be an integral part of the coursework.

Registration for the seminar can be accomplished during on-campus registration days. Additional information concerning this seminar or other courses offered by the SIUE School of Nursing may be obtained by telephoning 692-3856.

SURPRISES BURGLAR

Gary Barnstable, 2835 West 22nd St., surprised a burglar in his home when he returned early this week, and chased the intruder through the rear door. Barnstable told police he overtook the man, and told him to lie on the ground until police arrived. The suspect fled, however, and is being sought by police.

Strawberry plantings need fertilizer now

By CHRIS DOLL

Area Garden Advisor: Most strawberry plantings can use some extra nitrogen fertilizer now. This is the normal time for feeding to increase flower bud development for next year's crop.

Ammonium nitrate (33-0-0) is the preferred nitrogen fertilizer. Apply at the rate of 4 to 6 pounds per 1,000 square feet of berries. Use the lower rate if plants are vigorous or if the soil is extremely fertile, and the higher rate if the soil is light and the plants are weak.

When 33-0-0 is not available, use 12-12-12, 10-10-10, 6-10-4, or other garden fertilizers containing nitrogen at the rate of 10 pounds per 1,000 square feet. Avoid excessive amounts, regardless of the soil type.

Fertilizers can be broadcast over the berry row, but the granules must be brushed off the foliage to avoid burning the leaves. Use a broom or sack to do this. Water is needed to activate the fertilizer. You can irrigate or wait for a rain, but some of the benefits may be lost if it doesn't rain in a week or so.

In addition to feeding the plants, weeds should be controlled. Hoe or cultivate and then try to prevent fall weeds by the application of DCPA (Dacthal) or diphenamid (Enide). These materials are available as granules or wettable powders.

Apply over the plants at the rate given on the package. The secret to their success is to apply to a weed-free patch before the weeds germinate and just ahead of a rain.

By fertilizing and controlling weeds this fall, you should have a vigorous and productive patch next spring.

Grape harvest is near for many southwestern Illinois home gardens. The early varieties are now ripening, and the mid-season and late Concord will be ready in two to three weeks. Picking can begin whenever the flavor and sweetness are good enough to satisfy your taste or use.

Concord is the standard blue grape and is used as a comparison for all others. Its distinctive flavor is outstanding for fresh use, juice, and wine. Two excellent varieties that supplement Concord are Buffalo which ripens 10 days earlier, and Steuben, which ripens at the same time.

Niagara is the old reliable white grape. But Ontario, Portland, Aurora, and the seedless Interlaken and Himrod are excellent white grapes without the foxy flavor. Delaware is the standard of quality for red-skinned varieties. In addition to these, some of the French-American hybrids are growing satisfactorily. Harvest time brings to light the problems involved in grape growing. Downy and powdery mildew causes leaf and cluster discoloration and drooping. These diseases have developed rapidly in recent weeks.

Black rot causes brownish-circular leaf spots and black spotted or dried up fruits. The grape berry moth causes cracking and wormy berries. For these problems a preventive spray schedule is needed next year.

Uneven ripening of berries within a cluster may be from unusual growing conditions or drift of 2,4-D weed spray sometime during the growing season. The cluster will continue to ripen unevenly until they are all gone or frozen.

The fruits are safe to eat, but they are low in sugar content. If it's 2,4-D injury, distorted leaves will also be present. If it's growing conditions, try to maintain healthy foliage by spraying and balance the crop load by pruning more severely next spring.

Thus, harvest time is the time to evaluate your cultural methods and varieties and to enjoy the fruits of the vine.

Venice Park board to enact tax levy bill

The Venice Park Board will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at the park administration building, 223 Broadway, to enact a tax levy ordinance for the 1979-80 year.

The levy will be extended on the basis of a new 1979-80 park district budget totaling $73,566, of which $38,016 is appropriated for general purposes. The budget fixes another $25,400 in projected expenditures for recreational purposes, $6,900 for municipal retirement fees, $250 for auditing and $3,900 for liability insurance.

Programs given by Rev. Mory

St. John's Hilltoppers met last week with President Bertrando presiding. The Rev. Jim Mory opened the meeting with prayer and pledge to the flag.

A program on "Prayer and How to Use It" was given by Rev. Mory. Reports were read and cards were sent to the sick. The next meeting will be a potluck held Sept. 11 at noon.

'Pilot' program for GC student competency tests

Competency testing of students — a topic widely debated in the U.S. — will be tried here on a limited basis experimentally over the next two years, the Granite City Board of Education decided Tuesday night.

"The subject of competency testing brings up many questions, Curriculum Coordinator Warren Collins commented.

1. "Should we have a minimum competency program?"
2. "What competencies should be required?"
3. "How should the competencies be measured?"

4. "When will competencies be measured?"
5. "How many minimums should be set?"
6. "What level of competency should be established?"
7. "What should be done with those who fail?"

"This is an informational report to the Board of Education intended to review the status of competency testing in this district and will be presented by answering the above questions," Collins said. He and Supl. B. J. Davis recommended approval, and it was voted unanimously.

"Whether or not we should implement competency testing has for the most part been answered by the State of Illinois. The state legislature and the Illinois Office of Education have given every indication that competency testing is at hand," Collins said.

"It appears that the question is whether or not we can control our own destiny, or will we be subjected to state competencies? Believing the former choice has more advantages, we have approached it with this objective in mind.

"For the past two years,

Owen Humphrey has been updating the status of competency testing, and has attended several state meetings in which it was made clear that competency testing is going to be required.

"As you recall, seven of our nine summer curriculum workshops were planned to get us off dead-center and work out the basis for competency testing. The eight proposed competency tests are district-staff developed.

"Thirty-four certified personnel utilized over 1,100 hours in the development of these tests. Each workshop elected to develop a district test rather than select a commercially prepared test. This option permitted the tests to be designed to follow the district's adopted Developmental Learner Objectives in each of the subject areas.

"By choosing to establish that we have competency testing on our own terms, we can also choose the answers to the remaining questions. If the state mandates the tests, it is reasonable to assume local districts will have little or no choice in the answers to those remaining questions," Collins related.

"In determining what competencies to require, it is necessary to decide between school skills and life skills. That is, do we measure those skills needed to succeed later in school or those needed to succeed later in life?

"Certain 'basic' skills, such as reading, writing and arithmetic, are used in both school and life. Therefore, measuring competencies in the basics is more of a question of degree of competency rather than area or subject.

"This district took the position that 'life skill basics' are those for which we should measure and establish minimums.

"I do not interpret this to mean that these are the only competency skills that are of concern to us, but it does give us a base upon which to build and allow time to re-evaluate.

"Many would include knowledge of the history and culture of the United States and processes of democratic government as a life competency. This competency has been required for graduation for several years by the state, and thus is not a major concern at the present time.

"The life skills selected for competency measurement include:

- Primary Mathematics.
- Intermediate Mathematics.
- Junior High Mathematics.
- Senior High Mathematics.
- Junior High Reading.
- Senior High Reading.
- Junior High Composition.
- Senior High Composition.

Primary and intermediate reading and composition tests were not included as these are continually being measured by the use of the prepared magazine (exit level) tests that directly correlate with our textbooks.

"How to measure competencies is the least difficult of all the questions. Four options of measurement are: (1) paper and pencil; (2) school products and performances; (3) simulated performance situations; and (4) actual performance situations.

"We have chosen the paper and pencil because it is quick, cheap, and easily made available.

"We are aware that this form of measurement does not always predict success in life when an individual can succeed by attitude, values, personal warmth, leadership, creativity, etc. All things considered, it is the best method for our purposes.

"Should we measure competencies during school or at the end of school? Measuring at the end of school would assist in moving the student out of school and into the next school or life, and would allow the student maximum time to reach the minimum standards set.

"It is our belief, however, that students and parents deserve a warning, as soon as possible, if there are problems.

"Early testing (9th grade for senior high students) allows greater remediation possibilities, curriculum changes, and better course selection. We have chosen early testing," Collins said.

"Should we set one minimum for all students or should we consider ability, special talents, physical and mental limitations, family background, or other factors we know affect the learning of students?"

"In establishing our measurements, we have attempted to provide for these differences and have set one minimum for each test.

"It is my belief that exceptional cases may be exempted by Individualized Education Programs that are written for those students who do not qualify.

"Any student having an IEP written should not be exempted from minimum competencies unless it is so determined by the staffing and such exemption is clearly expressed in the IEP.

"What level of competencies should we establish? This is our most difficult question and we may be two to five years in learning if our minimums are reasonable and if our tests are valid.

"A norm-referenced test at any grade level would reveal about 50 percent of the students functioning at that level.

"A typical range of fifth grade students would be from eighth grade work to second grade work. For this reason, our tests are criterion-referenced in order to determine what a student knows rather than how well he or she ranks with the other students.

"We cannot expect 100 percent competency; but, conversely, we cannot accept 50 percent competency.

"We need to make pilot runs of the tests to determine the validity of the tests and most likely, to re-evaluate the minimums.

"The minimums can be no higher than the lowest score that would or could be made by any successful adult in our community.

"A successful individual may be considered a person who can live in our society at a functional level," Collins continued.

"Assuming we have validation of our tests and we have established reasonable minimums, what should be done with those who fail the tests? Remediation, I believe, must be our first response.

"All of our programs measuring minimum competencies, several remediation steps are provided. Denial of a diploma to those who have met course requirements but have failed minimum competencies would be premature until validity has been established.

"Each board member has received copies of the tests developed this summer. These will be modified as we begin the process of validating the test questions. They are not published here since general distribution would invalidate the tests. I recommend that we adopt the eight competency tests as a pilot program for the school years 1979-80 and 1980-81. I will make year-end reports of the results.

cording to Maarit, with the sun not setting until midnight during part of the summer months.

"It is very warm in Finland now," she said, "much like it is here. We have many lakes, like Minnesota, and cold winters, also not unlike that state."

Miss Peitsara will attend Granite City High School South. She plans to take English grammar, French, algebra, foods, and physical education. She said she is excited about being able to come to the United States and go to school.

Maarit is what Americans would call, with a smile, an "Air Force brat," her father being an officer in the Finnish Air Force.

The young lady from Finland likes a lot of the same things that Americans like, including The Village People, the Bee Gees and Chicago. She likes disco dancing and rock concerts. She also likes American television and radio.

"Where I live there are only two television stations and two radio stations," she said, "It is wonderful that there are so many television programs to watch. It is also wonderful that there are radio stations that play rock music."

She said that Americans eat more out of cans than do the people in Finland. "My mother goes to the market every two days to buy fresh food," she said, "We have fewer canned foods, and less sweets."

"Of course," she continued, "we have junk food. We eat potato chips and hot dogs and hamburgers and drink a lot of Pepsi. My brother's nickname is 'Pepsi'."

"Some things in Finland are more expensive than they are here," she said, "Gasoline and milk seem to get higher at about the same rate. Gas sells for about $2.40 a gallon and milk for about $2.20."

Maarit will have lots of things to see and do while she is with us, with many Granite Cityans, Rotarians and non-Rotarians alike, planning to make her stay an unforgettable one. She attended Tuesday's Granite City Rotary Club luncheon to exchange club banners.

There will be sightseeing ventures, including a visit to the Arch and to a rock concert at the Mississippi River Festival next season. There will be parties and other events for her to attend.

Maarit wants to see and do everything. "I want to see how you Americans live, how school is, what American football is like, and just everything. I want to take it all back to Finland with me and tell everyone."

Rotary International sponsors young people like Maarit every year; a Granite Cityan is leaving tomorrow to spend a year in Australia.

There are nine exchange students staying within District 646 this year, all residing with host families throughout Central and Southwestern Illinois.

One thing they all have in common is that, like Maarit, they will find many new American friends.

Newfound, genuine friends who will see to it that the teenagers, who come from all over the world, will learn what it is like to go to school and live like an American.

emotional and behavioral problems that prevent them from functioning in a regular classroom.

Donald Gargac said he favors township ownership of Stallings.

Addressing the School Board, Gargac said, "I ask that you approve Nameoki Township's request for acquiring Stallings School. I believe that you should approve their request for a number of reasons:

1. "If the condition of the building is as bad as has been said, the names realized at public auction will be minimal, as was the case in the Madison School District."
2. "A previous Granite City Board set a precedent by donating Central Junior High to Granite City Township.

3. "The Stallings School property belonged to the people of the Stallings and Nameoki Township area before it became a part of the Granite City School District, so it is only right that the property be returned to the people of the area," he concluded.

GC woman raped

A 18-year-old Granite City woman reported being raped and forced to commit another sex act at 1 a.m. Tuesday.

Police learned about the incident and talked to the victim at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday, after the woman called a neighboring police department and asked officers to contact her mother who had no telephone.

The woman had just arrived home from a babysitting job when she knew came to the house and the two sat for a short time on the front porch, she told police.

Later, they went up to the woman's apartment where she refused his sexual advances.

The victim said he made her commit a sex act and then attempted to rape her. In other parts of her report, she told officers she was raped.

She talked him into leaving the apartment and then tried to contact her mother through the police department, she advised.

She was examined at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and released.

Police are continuing to investigate the incident.

Destroy marijuana plants, arrest 4

A homegrown garden patch of marijuana was destroyed and four persons were arrested by Madison County sheriff's deputies at 2728 Angela Drive Tuesday morning.

Deputies said they also confiscated several bags and bottles of marijuana seeds, a scale and other paraphernalia allegedly used in a "neighborhood operation" of raising, processing and selling marijuana.

Officers arrested David Wayne Eaker, 21, Gary Eaker, 18, and Bruce Eaker, 17, all of the Angela Drive address, and Richard Dollins, 19, of 4045 Rode Ave. All were charged with possession of cannabis and manufacture and processing of cannabis.

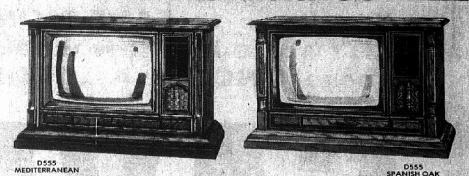

Major Fred Bright, operations chief of the sheriff's department, reported the garden patch contained two types of marijuana, one raised for seed and the other for use. Mrs. Pat Eaker, owner of the home and mother of three of those arrested, was not charged.

No free Army land for police shooting range

Granite City can expect no difficulty in acquiring without cost land in which the city's secondary sewage treatment facilities are located at the Army Installation grounds, but it would have to remove its Police Department shooting range from the area if it wants to pick up an additional five acres as surplus government land, City Council members were informed in a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Paul Schuler, noting that he had talked with Robert Prager and Roger Tone, representatives of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said he was informed the five-acre tract on which the shooting range is located cannot be given to the city because the shooting range does not constitute usage for health purposes.

In a report to council members, the mayor said: There are apparently two requirements for the transfer of this property to the city of Granite City that could cause some problems. One is that we are required to enclose any new boundaries with a fence similar to the one in existence now and also to relocate any patrol roads.

Secondly, we are required to separate any utilities within the tract of existing lines. Also a basic requirement for the transfer of surplus properties is that it must be used for public health purposes. There is no problem with the 34.4 acres on which the sewage treatment plant is located, however, if we choose to acquire the five additional acres we must: 1) enclose the new boundary with a fence, 2) relocate an existing patrol road, 3) remove the shooting range because it does not qualify for public health use.

According to Mr. Tone there is some confusion as to how, when and where the requirements are to be met and therefore, he has requested the St. Louis Area Support Center Commanding Officer to more clearly define these requirements.

I am told the post commander has also asked for free treatment of sewage by the city, but Mr. Tone and I agree that this is probably forbidden by EPA.

Another option is available to the city regarding the shooting range and that is that the city may enter into negotiations for the purchase of the five acres.

The current status of HEW regarding the sewage treatment plant acreage is that we have been asked to submit an amendment to our application which is to read, and I quote, "The city of Granite City wishes to amend its application to include the statement that the city agrees to enclose the new boundaries with security fence to match existing boundaries fence and to relocate patrol roads to new boundaries as the post commander of the St. Louis Area Support Center may direct. And also the city of Granite City hereby agrees to continue to treat sewage in accordance with the terms in Lease DA-11-032-ENG 11579 dated July 13, 1964, as amended, between the Department of the Army and the city of Granite City.

Pupils' textbooks can reduce sexist attitudes

One reason why many adults hold sexist attitudes is that they learned them when they were young. From the earliest days of life, children are influenced by the attitudes and values of the world around them. Two educational psychologists have found that changing parts of that world provide an effective tool for combating sexual inequality.

Kathryn P. Scott, Ph.D., of Florida State University, and Shirley Feldman-Summers, Ph.D., of the University of Washington, focused research about sexist attitudes on the infamous school reader.

They discovered that books used to educate children convey sexism because they often portray females in traditional, stereotyped roles.

But if women are shown in roles of authority and expertise, more equal sexual attitudes can be taught, they found.

Scott and Feldman-Summers assigned a set of eight short stories to third and fourth grade girls and boys in the Bellevue School District, Bellevue, Wash. Each story had two versions. One featured a female main character and the other a male main character.

The results emerged. One, both girls and boys who read about a female character in a new role concluded that more girls could succeed in that activity. Second, the children appreciated both versions of the story, indicating that young people are open to non-sexist ideas.

The ways children see men and women, therefore, can be influenced by textbook stories, Scott and Feldman-Summers conclude. They say that a "positive, non-sexist presentation of females in children's books can contribute to an egalitarian view of the sexes."

"Children's reading material, then, can constitute a potentially important avenue for social change with regard to the elimination of sexism." The article by Scott and Feldman-Summers, "Children's Reactions to Textbook Stories in Which Females are Portrayed in Traditionally Male Roles," appeared in the Journal of Educational Psychology this summer.

Rollin' on the mighty river with your friendly neighborhood towboat captain

Captain Bob Gardner, who's spent more than one half of his life on the river, likes his job.

For him, piloting powerful towboats here and elsewhere is an exciting career that demands a lot and lets him be his own man.

"It's different every trip," he says in his rich Southern drawl. "There's always something new, and if you get too confident, this river'll let you know."

He is speaking of the mighty Mississippi, including the Tri-City Port area.

Considering that a quarter-mile tow up to 40 barges is handled by a crew of 11 men, including the captain, Gardner's description of his job seems like a masterful understatement to the uninitiated observer.

However, the river is indeed constantly changing and shifting. What was there when he came through a section of river last week may not be now, and vice versa.

Each of the 15 barges he's pushing carries 60,000 bushels of grain — 300,000 bushels riding downriver on Gardner's skill.

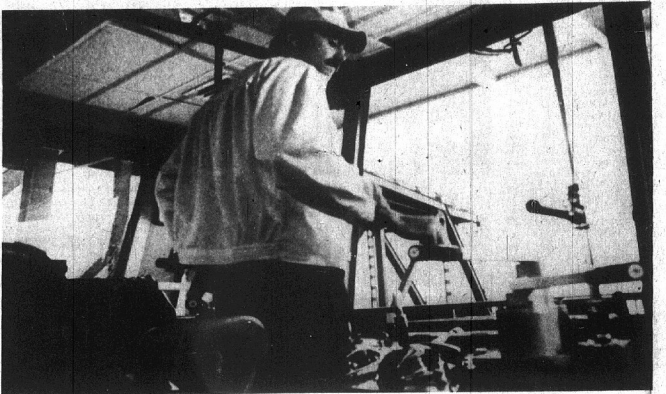

It would take about 225 railroad cars to haul that much and the train would measure over two-and-a-half miles long, he notes.

The grain Gardner is pushing may be transported to Midwestern warehouses to be ground into flour or used for animal feed.

Most of the barges, however, will continue their long quiet ride to the ports of Baton Rouge or New Orleans, where their cargo will be loaded aboard ships for export.

Farm products are the largest single item in the U.S. list of export goods, and grain alone contributes nearly $9 billion to the U.S. balance of payments.

America exports 50 percent of its wheat, 25 percent

TOWBOAT CAPTAIN Bob Gardner is one of many whose skills and experience are invaluable in maintaining a mammoth volume of commodity shipping on inland waterways like the Mississippi River. Waterborne transportation has of its corn and over 40 percent of the annual soybean crop.

Eighty-five percent of all of these grain exports are transported to ocean ports by barge.

Good food is plentiful on the towboats, and the crew members are given three hot meals a day with lots of snacks in between. The kind of exercise they get doing tow work burns a lot of calories; they work six hours on and six off, around the clock.

Picture this. You're in the pilot house of a 6,500 horsepower towboat. You're being pushed southbound on the Mississippi River by two propellers over nine feet high.

Captain Gardner's six-hour watch is just beginning, and coming up is a lock to navigate, tricky currents to negotiate, and a lot of barge traffic ahead. It will be a busy afternoon.

Like most rivermen, Gardner laughs readily at himself and at past mistakes.

And again, like most, he is warm and open with visitors aboard the boat, ready to explain how things work, why he pushes this button or turns that one, and how his sophisticated radar helps him navigate.

But while he's talking, he is always alert, looking out in all directions from the glass-walled pilot house riding 35 feet above the water.

In the background, the radio crackles with river talk in courteous Southern accents.

Pilots stay in constant radio contact with each other, steadily exchanging notes on water levels, their position, current patterns, and weather conditions.

They repeat themselves and each other often, leaving no room for misunderstanding. The stakes are too high for that.

Two tows are ready to pass by Captain Gardner's boat heading upriver, but decide to wait until he has maneuvered his tow into the Chain of Rocks Canal here. The Mississippi isn't a river to take chances on. Currents make it too hazardous for all of the boats to pass this spot — Granite City Locks 27 — at once.

Some of the barges passing Gardner are empty, headed back upriver for more grain. Most of them, however, are put to use for the round trip, hauling coal for power plants, steel pipe for gas lines, or cement for construction.

The coal industry, for example, ships about 82 million tons a year by barge, and nearly 40 percent of U.S. oil and other petroleum products is transported by barge. There are nearly 900 barge companies and over 90,000 employees afloat tugs and towboats, but everyone seems to know everyone else on this trip.

Gardner is still talking on the radio to pilots downriver and waving to those passing by. He's got a long way to go to New Orleans, and his work is cut out for him.

"The river never rises," he says. "The song says, 'H just keeps rollin'.' "We gotta keep afloat, too."

She yelled for her husband and brother who caught one of the youths on Fourth street near the highline while Venice police, assisted by Brooklyn officers caught the other two and recovered the purse.

Heavy rain hits area

Rain and high-gusting winds struck the Quad-City area Tuesday night, but apparently caused no damage as similar storms did in other parts of the Madison-St. Clair County region.

Heavy rain, accompanied by an electrical storm, fell in the area shortly after 9 p.m. Rainfall during the storm and during brief periods during the night totaled 90 of an inch, according to records at the Chain of Rocks locks.

The Tuesday night storm here followed afternoon storms in Edwardsville and rural parts of Madison and St. Clair counties.

The wind blew down tree limbs and resulted in power outages.

Juveniles arrested

Three juvenile boys, one age 15 and two 16-year-olds are being held in the Venice Police Station pending a court appearance on a charge of armed robbery.

All three youths are from the Quad-City area, an official said.

Clothing urgently needed at this time are boys' pants, size 8 to 16 and girls' slacks size 8 through junior sizes.

Community Service Centers formed in 1978 are a combined effort of United Way membership agencies to provide an exchange outlet where people can give good usable clothing and household items and be assured they are helping a neighbor in their community.

Clothing may be taken to the nearest Community Services Center, or call for more information, 1254 N. Niedringhaus Avenue, 2383; 406 Madison Ave., Madison, 878-8430, or 3839 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, 931-2700.

Four arrested, one hospitalized after melee on Grand Ave.

Leonard Crone, 17, of 1123 Grand Ave., Madison, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 8:10 p.m. Tuesday and was listed in stable condition suffering injuries to his left rib area and face.

Crone has been charged with aggravated assault as he allegedly fought with police, obstructing justice for allegedly trying to prevent police from arresting Charlie Spink, and charged with disorderly conduct for allegedly cursing and threatening other persons.

Venice, Granite City and Madison police answered the disturbance call in the 1100 block of Grand Avenue.

Mrs. Shirley Meyer, 34, of 1123 Grand Ave. was also arrested and charged with disorderly conduct and obstructing a police officer.

She allegedly was shouting obscenities, causing a disturbance in the street and refused to let a Madison officer into her house as he was in pursuit of an unidentified subject believed to be carrying a gun.

Charles Delain Spink, 21, of 1710 Cleveland Blvd., was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. He tried running from police after he was arrested, officers said.

Spink's arrest was of a 16-year-old boy who was home on an eight-day leave from the juvenile detention center at St. Charles. The youth has already been taken back to St. Charles by his probation officer.

According to witnesses, Nick J. Wargin, 19, of 919 Grand Ave., Madison, was driving home on Grand Avenue.

Three youths with long hair allegedly were standing in the street and as Wargin drove by the three started hitting on his car, windows were exchanged and Wargin drove home.

The three allegedly followed him to his residence.

One of the youths threatened Wargin who then allegedly hit the youth with a baseball bat.

One of the three youths allegedly then pulled a gun and fired, handing the weapon to another one of the youths and told him to fire. The second youth refused to fire and the third youth allegedly took the gun and fired several times at Wargin, who was now behind a tree, according to a witness.

Wargin then managed to get to his auto and drove off toward the police station when he met Madison police enroute to the disturbance.

Spink has been taken to Madison County jail pending posting of an $8,500 bond and Mrs. Meyer was released at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday on a $500 bond with no area to appear in court when called. Crone will be taken before a judge when he is released from the hospital.

Community Center outlet needs usable clothing

The Community Service Center Clothing and Exchange outlet in the Coordinated Youth Building, 1254 Niedringhaus Ave., is in need of usable children's school clothes for the 1979-1980 school year. It was reported Tuesday.

During the previous year over 900 students were assisted with school clothes through the generosity of the residents of the Quad-City area, an official said.

Clothing urgently needed at this time are boys' pants, size 8 to 16 and girls' slacks size 8 through junior sizes.

Truck driver shot

James Carl Rhoads, 38, Tulsa, Okla., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center after he was shot at 12:14 a.m. Wednesday in the 15 Acres Tavern on W. Chain of Rocks Road, according to Madison County sheriff's deputies.

According to a spokesman, the bullet believed to be from a .22 caliber rifle went through the left shoulder.

According to the sheriff's department, Rhoads told them he was having a drink and a man next to him, whom Rhoads did not know, was arguing with a woman at the bar.

Rhoads said the man turned around to ask him what truck line he drove for and then tried to fight with Rhoads.

Rhoads allegedly knocked the man down.

The man got up, left the tavern and came back with a rifle; entered the bar and started shooting, deputies reported.

Rhoads told deputies he first did not think the man was serious until he started firing. Rhoads tried to flee through a door when he was hit.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Retiring in 1962 after 40 years as a carpenter, he was a member of Local 633.

Mr. Thomas was born in Chattanooga, Tenn., and moved to Granite City in 1928.

German descendants to assemble

The annual Bohnenstiel family reunion will be held at noon Sunday, Sept. 9, at the VFW Hall in Collinsville. Norman R. Bohnenstiel, of Edwardsville, is chairman of the reunion committee and will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Volle A. G. Bohnenstiel, Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Bohnenstiel, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl (Ira Bohnenstiel) Lochmann, all of Collinsville.

Descendants of Jacob and Margaret, who left Neuhofen, Rheinbaldern, Germany, on April 8, 1842, to settle in the St. Clair-Madison counties area, have met almost every year (except the war years) since their first annual reunion was held at Eben's Park in Troy in 1936.

All descendants and their families are welcome at the pot luck dinner and program. No postcards have been mailed this year, since announcements went out in letters to family members concerning the book.

Volle A. and Helen Bohnenstiel have compiled and published a family history and record of over 650 descendants of the immigrant couple.

All Bohnenstiels in this area are descended from Jacob and Margaret Bohnenstiel and, in addition, descendants were found in 24 states and in 32 cities of Illinois.

A supplement was added to each book when it was mailed, including information found on the passenger list where the Bohnenstiels were shown arriving in New Orleans on July 18, 1842. This information was discovered after the book had been printed.

The authors had heard that most of the German families in this area arrived by way of New Orleans, traveling up the Mississippi by riverboat to Madison and St. Clair counties of Illinois and other St. Louis area communities.

This proved to be true of the Bohnenstiels as well.

Another supplement with additional and updated information will be issued after the 1979 family reunion to subscribers of the book.

The authors, who are still researching in Germany for additional family history, recently received a telephone directory from the burgemeister (mayor) of Neuhofen, the ancestral village of the Bohnenstiels.

As large as the St. Louis directory, it covers a large portion of Rheinland-Pfalz (formerly Reinbaldern).

In checking the directory, they discovered many of the unusual German names here are commonplace in that area. Many of the German names here are commonplace in that area. Many of the German families in this area evidently emigrated from this same part of Germany.

Persons working on family genealogies with German roots, who might be interested in having the directory checked for family names of relatives who might still be residing in Germany, are invited to write the Bohnenstiels at 1618 Brookhaven Blvd., Norman, Okla. 73069.

It would be of help if the name were unusual — there are hundreds of Bauers and Schmidts, for example — and if the ancestral town were known. But, in any case, the Bohnenstiels will attempt to compile a list of names and addresses from the directory to local genealogy enthusiasts.

They have found, for example, nine families spelling their name "Bohnenstiel" and one spelling it "Bohnenstl".

Both soft and hardbound books will be available for sale at the reunion by the authors, who will be attending from Oklahoma. They will also be collecting any additional data provided by family members for the family book supplement.

ARRESTED ON WARRANT
An officer seeing a man asleep in the grass at 2601 Myrtle Ave. at 3 a.m. Tuesday, found he was being sought on a warrant alleging failure to appear. Arrested was Robert D. Clark, 26, of 2608 Buxton Ave.

'Wats' now the 800 Service

The Bell System, deciding that 40,000 customers can't be wrong, now is calling its "800 Service" what the customers call it.

Until recently, Bell called the service "Inward WATS (Wide Area Telecommunications Service)," while the customers referred to it "the 800 number."

"Many more uses recognize the term '800 Service' than 'Inward WATS,'" Robert L. Schewe, Illinois Bell product manager for WATS, says.

"So we've made it easier for customers, and adopted the service's popular name as its official name," Schewe said, adding: "The service is well suited for business that normally receive a large number of incoming calls, such as orders, inquiries or complaints."

By either name, "800 Service" has been widely accepted. Since its introduction in the Bell System in 1967, the service has grown an average of 34 percent annually. Today, 40,000 customers nationwide subscribe to it.

"800 Service" serves a wide variety of uses, Schewe said, such as business, marketing, consumerism and social services.

Examples include:
1. In Illinois there is an "800" number for the National Runaway Switchboard. Volunteers use "800" lines to relay messages between runaway teenagers and concerned parents.

2. Several medical groups use toll-free hotlines to dispense advice on initial treatment for suspected poisoning victims.

3. Other "800 Service" users in Illinois include the Secretary of State's Office, which has a hotline for answering motorists' questions about auto registrations and titles; Amtrak and the RTA (Regional Transit Authority), which supply callers with travel information; and Illinois Bell, which has a special "800" number for hearing-impaired customers needing phone service help.

4. Customers of the nation's two largest retail store chains call in catalog orders via "800" numbers.

5. Service consultants of two major appliance manufacturers answer consumer questions and resolve service problems.

6. A company that markets photography equipment prints its "800" number on packages and product literature. Calling volume skyrockets at Christmas, when new camera owners phone for information.

7. A contact lens manufacturer takes orders and answers inquiries from ophthalmologists.

8. From an economic standpoint, "800" business revenues generated growing faster than related expenses. For example, one motel chain found that it cost as little as one dollar to handle an "800" call, and that call on average brought in $33 in revenue, Schewe noted.

Hospice to be topic at women's seminar

A seminar for Church Women United will be held Sept. 17 at St. John United Church of Christ.

Mrs. Betty Safford of Hospice of Madison County will give a talk on the Hospice program and how volunteers from the various churches can participate. Hospice works for the care of the terminally ill. Because the Hospice budget is limited, there will be a heavy reliance on volunteers from all of the communities that the program services.

There will also be a seminar for the Home Visitation program which will also need volunteers. A third talk will be given for the Community Counseling Service of the Mental Health Clinic.

The group met Monday with 20 representatives of the Quad-City churches present.

It was announced that the newsletter will be mailed to all church representatives by Sept. 7. World Community Day will be held Nov. 2 at Trinity Methodist Church with Ruth Todd chairman.

Thunderbirds perform at Scott

The U.S. Air Force Aerial Demonstration Team, the Thunderbirds, performed during the weekend at the annual open house at Scott Air Force Base. The six-jet team made its 2,880th appearance. It has never canceled a performance to date and has flown at each appearance without a mishap.

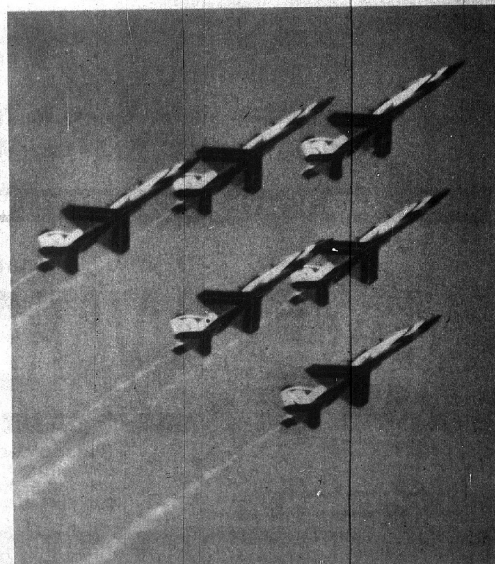

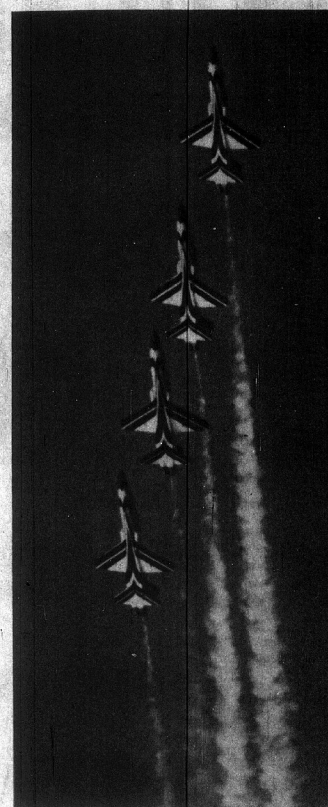

The Thunderbirds highlighted the day-long event, which included two performances by the U.S. Air Force Academy's parachute demonstration team, the "Wings of Blue." A display of military and civilian aircraft also was available for close inspection by visitors to the base. Several square-dancing groups demonstrated their dancing skills.

PEOPLE

THE THUNDERBIRDS, precision Air Force flyers, perform. From top left, clockwise: The six-jet team swoops towards the ground in an apparent collision course. A close formation of four of the brightly painted airplanes soars straight up. Jets five and six seem to be attached as they fly by the viewing area just 75 feet above the ground, with number five upside-down. The famous triangle or delta formation. The pilots prepare for takeoff on the flightline. And a fly-by of the one through four numbered jets, with two and three flying belly to belly as one and four cruise on by.

Miss Robinson and Robert Bassett marry

St. John Evangelical United Church of Christ in Collinsville provided the setting for the July 13 double ring ceremony of Miss Beverly Jane Robinson and Robert Gene Bassett.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Robinson of Collinsville. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Bassett of Marine. The Rev. Donald Sabbert officiated at the 5 p.m. formal service.

Mrs. Peggy Morlin, accompanied by Bill Hart at the organ, sang "If," "Sometimes," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Evergreen." Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a full-length Empire style gown of organza with a Queen Anne neckline trimmed in silk Venice lace and seed pearls.

The full skirt of three tiers of ruffles fell into a chapel train. The bishop sleeves were accented with lace motifs.

Her walking length veil and blusher were secured to a Venice lace cap with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Matron of honor was Sharon Morris of Granite City. Evelyn Robinson, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid. The groom's sister, Gina Bassett, was junior bridesmaid. They wore blue polyester formal length gowns with blouson bodices, round necklines and short, slit sleeves. They carried bouquets of blue daisies and baby breath and wore blue daisies in their hair.

Serving his brother as best man was Gary Bassett. Melvin Robinson, a brother of the bride, was groomsman and Steven Loos, a cousin of the groom, served as junior groomsman.

The full skirt was designed with cascading, chantilly ruffles edged in ebony lace, and the full bishop sleeves were matching lace.

She wore a bandeau headpiece securing a fingertip veil enhanced with lace trim.

Her bouquet was of silk white roses, pale yellow rosebuds, lilies of the valley, pale turquoise apple blossoms, baby breath and foliage.

Maid of honor was Tracy

In the summer of 1978, students enrolled for a total of 13,492 credit hours in baccalaureate and business oriented courses. This figure dropped to 13,029 in 1979.

Compromise on second new lock

A recommended two-year delay in resolving the second lock controversy at Alton was avoided by the Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission last week.

Meeting in St. Louis, the commission adopted a compromise between a four-year program recommended by its study committee and the two-year deadline posed by federal law.

The compromise specifies a two-year interim report to Congress covering high-priority issues, such as the question of the second river lock at Alton. The commission also resolved to ask Congress to amend the deadline from two to four years.

These actions settled a long-simmering dispute among the members over how long to schedule completing a plan for the management of the upper river system.

Neil Haugerud, commission chairman, had repeatedly urged members to follow the letter of the 1978 federal law directing the commission to prepare the plan for Congress by Jan. 1, 1981.

Many Commission members responded that proper planning will require two additional years. They noted that the law was drafted in 1976 but not passed by Congress and signed into law until Oct. 21, 1978. Therefore, the argument goes, Congress intended to allow four years for preparing the plan.

The plan is an outgrowth of the controversy over a new Lock and Dam 26 South of Alton. When adopted by Congress, it was intended to better coordinate the many policies and programs of the five states and ten federal agencies that manage various parts of the Upper Mississippi River system.

Chairman Haugerud emphasizes that the new law calls for better management, not more studies. Whether to build a new dam with one lock has been authorized but is being delayed by a lawsuit. There presently are two locks at the old dam.

As a result of the commission actions, Haugerud is now expected to prepare two phased working agreements among the member agencies for preparing the interim report and final plan components. The law specifies that the plan include:

1. The effects of navigation expansion on railroads.
2. The costs and benefits to the nation derived from any navigation capacity expansion.

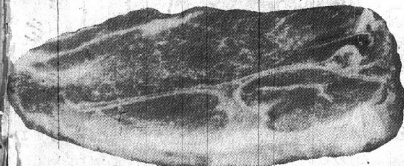

3. An evaluation of the need for a second lock at Lock and Dam 26.
4. A demonstration program of dredge spoil disposal out of the floodplain.

5. Development of a computerized analytical inventory and analysis system.

The commission sponsored several public information meetings along the river this spring and summer.

Some of the comments and ideas given by the general public and special interest groups were included in the proposed planning program.

ARREST ON WARRANT—Kenneth D. Campbell, 1001 Washington Ave., Madison, was arrested on a warrant alleging contempt and failure to pay the court when police stopped his vehicle this week on Nameoki Road at E. 27th Street. He was released on payment of a $25 cash bond a short time later.

Board delays beginning of prep seasons

GRANITE CITY
Because of action taken Tuesday night by the Granite City District 9 Board of Education, the beginning of the high school fall athletic seasons will be delayed by a week.

Because of on-going negotiations between the Board and the teachers' union on a new contract, the start of school has been pushed back to Sept. 4. The action has forced the cancellation of several sporting events at both Granite City North and South high schools.

"The Illinois High School Association won't allow any interscholastic sporting event by a school before its first day of classes," said Joe Fedora, District Athletic Coordinator. "Except for football, which has a predetermined starting date (Sept. 7)."

The games and meets for GCHS North which have been cancelled are: varsity and junior varsity soccer games Sept. 1 at home against Quincy, golf meets Aug. 30 (at Alton) and Aug. 31 (at Highland along with GCHS South), and the cross country team's participation in the Alton Top Ten Meet Aug. 31.

South events cancelled are: varsity soccer at home Aug. 31 against Springfield Southeast, the gold meet at Highland Aug. 31 and the Alton Top Ten Meet.

Fedora said every attempt will be made by the athletic directors at the two high schools to reschedule the events. However, if no suitable dates can be found, North and South could have to forfeit the games or meets.

A teachers' strike last year at Collinsville forced the athletic teams there to forfeit several games and meets before a settlement was reached. A strike by St. Louis city teachers last school year forced the forfeiture of several basketball games, before the coaches began crossing picket lines to hold practices and games.

Steptoe sees 1979 as challenge for Trojans

By KEVIN ALLEN of the Press-Record
MADISON — The gym floor at Madison high school gleams like glass. A fresh coat of varnish gives it a look of newness.

Beneath the spruced-up gym Charlie Steptoe was unpacking brand-new black football helmets. His new assistant coach stood nearby.

Note a pattern here?

Steptoe is conducting pre-season practices for the first time as head football coach at Madison. He is working with a squad of players who in general lack a great deal of experience.

In addition to these internal firsts, Madison will be a new member of the Quad-County Conference, along with Breese Central, Columbia, Dupu, Assumption, and Freeburg.

"We're definitely in the building phase this year," Steptoe said. "I'd say I'm conservative about our team, but the new conference should help. It will give us something more to shoot for, some added incentive."

Currently Madison is conducting two-a-day practices, at 7:30 a.m. and again at 4 p.m.

At this stage of the pre-season, Steptoe has encountered problems. Because many of the players who will form the Trojan team are still involved with summer jobs, the practices have been noted for their low attendance.

"We're having problems getting people out," Steptoe said. "We have 34 players on our roster, but they all haven't been out at the same time."

So Steptoe and the Trojan coaching staff have been working on conditioning the athletes while slowly surveying the talent.

"I joined the team early last year as an assistant and I was an assistant for about nine years before, so I know a little bit about the

Unser lives in his famous dad's shadow

In the parking lot of the Edwardsville Holiday Inn sat a yellow race car, a small streamlined machine sitting on a trailer behind a red pickup.

Red lettered script on the side of the car near the driver's seat announced that the person who belonged there was Al Unser Jr.

Unser is a big name in racing. From Daytona to Indianapolis Al and Bobby Unser have left a conspicuous mark of success in a wide range of motor sports.

room registered to Al Unser Jr., son of the other racing father, was asleep in an identical room just down the hall.

On one of the disheveled beds in the room a reclining red-haired, cherubic-faced youngster said, "Yes, I'm Al Unser."

This 17-year-old Unser, son of the more famous Al Unser Sr., was in the area to participate in the "World of Outlaws" sprint car competition at Tri-City Speedway yesterday in Granite City.

His cousin, Bobby Unser Jr., son of the other racing father, was asleep in an identical room just down the hall.

"It's a privilege having the Unser name," Unser said as he hauled himself up to a sitting position. "But my father's very strict. I drive a '68 pontiac that I bought for $400. He (Al Sr.) helps with my driving, but what I spend I earn."

Al Jr., at 17, is both man and child. His looks suggest an innocent fuzzy-faced teenager, but when he speaks of experience it becomes clear he is living in a world of adults.

"I was rookie of the year in Albuquerque last year and right now I'm the Colorado state champion," Unser said.

Unser began the season in March and will end in October. Since March he has been in about 30 races. After the season ends he will return to Albuquerque to finish his senior year in high school.

But aside from high school, there is little that Unser has in common with other high school seniors.

At the age of nine he began racing go-carts. By age 11 he had decided to go into

Swindell wins feature

Threatening rain throughout the area didn't threaten the World of Outlaws sprint cars last night as a large field of cars and around 4,000 spectators witnessed one of the best 40 lap feature races of the year at the Tri-City Speedway.

Starting on the fifth row inside and displaying a fine drive through traffic Sammy Swindell of Memphis, Tenn., won his eight WOI feature race of the year.

Driving the A. Jeffries-owned Federal Express Chevy-powered sprinter, Swindell had to fight very hard with Danny Smith of Danville, Ind., for the last ten laps of the race for the win.

Doug Wolfgang of Lincoln, Neb., started on the pole position and lead for the first twenty-seven laps before Swindell passed him, but only lead for three laps until Danny Smith passed him and lead for the next seven laps.

A red flag was displayed when Doug Wolfgang flipped his car in turn two then was hit by another car driven by Tri-City local driver Larry Gates of Evansville, Ind.

There were no injuries but Wolfgang's car was out of the event.

On the restart, a four-lap race between Danny Smith, Sammy Swindell, Jerry Stone of Wichita, Kans., and Jack Hewitt of Troy, Ohio, was on.

What a race it was! Swindell passed Smith on lap 38 and held on for the win. Swindell was followed by Smith, Stone, Hewitt, WOI point leader Steve Kinser of Bloomington, Ind., Ron Milton of Jacksonville, Ill., Lee James of Northridge, Calif., Bill Robinson of Topeka, Kans., Rick Perkel of Findlay, Ohio, and Tom Corbin of Carrollton, Mo.

The first heat race was won by Danny Smith followed by Bill Robinson, Sammy Swindell and Steve Kinser.

Doug Wolfgang, driving the Speedway Motors 4X, won the second heat over Rick Perkel, Allan Barr of Mount Vernon, Ind., and Andy Rattaman of Murphysboro, Ill.

The third heat was won by Tom Corbin driving the McDaniel Const. Chevy over Lee Osborne of Jamestown, Ind., Larry Cramble of Macon, Ill., and Handy Standridge of Springfield, Ill. Jack Hewitt driving the 3K Auto Body 3X won the fourth heat over Jerry Stone, Cliff Cockrum of Benton, Ill., and Ron Milton.

Doug Wolfgang won the Busch Beach trophy dash over Jack Hewitt, Tom Corbin and Danny Smith. Kenny Schrader of Baldwin, Mo., driving the Ray Marler-Dean Cook 4E won the semi-feature

Jr. Unsers race at Tri-City

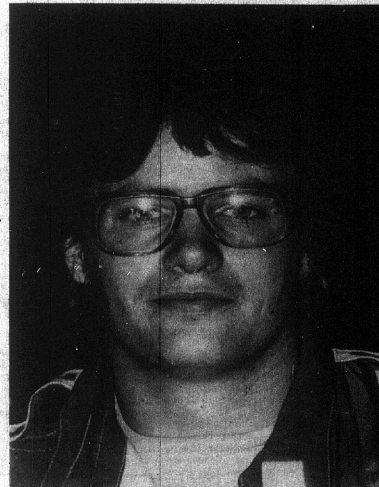

GRANITE CITY — When Bobby and Al Unser juniors, cousins of the professional race car drivers came to Granite City Wednesday evening, they didn't come to watch car races at Tri-City Speedway, they raced themselves. Capacity crowd braved the threatening storm to cheer on the Unser's who were making his fourth lap. On the first turn, Unser was squeezed against the guard rail by another driver and quickly it caused him to flip his car five times in air, but he luckily escaped without injuries. So, Al & Bobby Jr. wants to be like the REAL Al & Bobby Unser. They're on the right track.

professional racing when the time came. The time came last year when he was old enough to begin his professional career.

With the backing of Lyle Dill, an Albuquerque parts dealer, Unser entered the sprint car circuit.

"In any business you don't start out on top, you start at the bottom. That's what we're doing now," Unser said. Of course, starting may have been easier for Unser because of the connections his father's influence helped make.

Unser readily admits his father's name may have opened some doors. "As young as I am I may have had to wait awhile before I could afford it," he said.

Last night, while Al Unser raced at Tri-City in his own car, his cousin Bobby was in a car owned by a local racer. Bobby's car was rendered unusable after a crash in Albuquerque last week.

Just as their fathers, the second-generation Unseers have met many times on the sprint car circuit.

"We've crashed before," Al said. "But you just have to ignore that. Racing is racing. If I crash with Bobby and it's my fault, he won't come back and chew on my case. He's just like any other guy out there. If I have to pass him that's what I'm going to do."

Currently, both Unseers are involved with the "World of Outlaws" on a semi-regular basis.

"But in a few years I'd like to get into an Indy car. By the time I'm 21 I'd like to have an Indy ride pan out."

If Al Unser's plans pan out, and given the history of his young career that's possible, the finishing order at Indianapolis some Memorial Day in the near future may be confusing.

problems we have," Septoe said.

One of Septoe's biggest problems right now is the lack of tested players in the Madison backfield.

"Traditionally, Madison has generally had good, fast backs. The running backs have outshined the line," Septoe said. "In this year Madison's backfield which was the strength of last year's team is graduated."

"We could have a good line," Septoe said. "It looks like we have some pretty good sized players." Septoe said the emphasis will be, for the moment, on the backfield. "We'll start there and work forward to the line," he said.

Despite the problems Madison faces, those of inexperience and lack of numbers, Septoe remains hopeful.

An exciting season ahead for area preps

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — The coming season will be a very exciting one for high school sports in the Quad Cities. For the first time in several years, three of the four preps will be involved in conferences.

With the formation of the new Gateway East Conference and the addition of Madison to the Quad Counties loop, a kind of excitement that has been lacking from high school sports around here will return. Granite City North and South will join Cahokia, Belleville, Althoff and Edwardsville in the Gateway loop. The other schools besides Madison in the Quad Counties are Breese Central, Columbia, Dupu, East St. Louis, Assumption and Freeburg.

In addition, Madison will join the Southern Seven Soccer Conference.

The fact that area schools will once again have rivals outside the Quad Cities is a good one. As a matter of fact, it's downright healthy. No longer will the North-South game be the ONLY game played all season (even though the two will face each other twice this football season). Other rivalries will evolve.

The Sporting Thing

In Madison's case, one has already been established. Dupu and Madison aren't exactly the best of friends on the gridiron, going back a couple years to when Madison fell to the Tigers something like 64-0. The next season, Madison came back and rubbed out Dupu. The Dupu-Madison game will mean something to the players on the Madison squad.

Not only will Granite North and South be involved in the Gateway Conference in football, but also in soccer.

Yet another championship trophy adorn the shelves of one of the local high schools do doubt.

North-South must face each other twice this season in football because there are but five schools in the new loop. By virtue of the flip of a coin, two schools which must play each other twice are North and South. The conference hierarchy will continue the practice of two school meeting twice a season in football until a sixth school can be added. And they are looking.

Schools such as Bethalto, Mascoutah, Mount Vernon and Altralia have been mentioned by some as possible additions. However, all are presently belong to other conferences and could find it hard to break away.

It looks as if Collinsville has done a complete about face and will stay in the Southwest Conference in all sports, so the SWC will be the same size as the Gateway East loop — five teams: Belleville, East, Belleville, West, Collinsville, East St. Louis and Alton.

So this season, there will be more to cheer about, more to look for in the Press-Record conference standings, all in all, more to see and do as far as prep athletics are concerned.

I'm looking forward to it.

Light Run to finish at Busch

ST. LOUIS — The first 3,000 entrants will have a berth in the first-ever Natural Light Stadium Run on Sunday, Sept. 30, which concludes with runners crossing the finish line on the playing field at Busch Stadium before the season's final St. Louis Cardinal baseball game.

Sponsored by Natural Light beer, the Cardinals and St. Louis Track Club, the 6.2-mile run through the streets of downtown St. Louis to the stadium begins at 11:30 a.m.

The entry deadline is Friday, Sept. 1, which race director Tom Eckelman of the St. Louis Track Club explained is necessary so that runners' packets can be mailed to entrants prior to the Sept. 30 run.

Each runner will receive a coupon good for one free general admission ticket or one-half off the price of any reserved seat for the Cardinals game that day against the new York Mets, a Natural Light Stadium Run T-Shirt, running number and race instructions.

"The race is formatted so that there is a handicap start which should mean that most of the runners will finish at once, racing onto the playing field at the stadium," Eckelman said. "The first 100 to cross the finish line receive prizes."

"Male runners age 24 to 31 will have a zero handicap which means they start the race 17 minutes after a male runner 73 years or older and a woman runner age 55 and over," Eckelman explained.

Following national handicapping standards, a head start is allocated to runners on half-second increments depending on their age and sex.

"We think this will be one of the most spectacular finishes of any run ever held in St. Louis which should heighten the interest of the spectators in the stands at Busch Stadium," said John Claiborne, general manager of the Cardinals and one of the runners planning to compete.

"We expect a lot of runners who normally don't compete against each other to be running in this type of race," he said.

Runners finishing the 6.2-mile course before 12:45 p.m. cross the finish line on the field. Eckelman explained, while slower runners don't complete it in the one-hour-and-15-minute time frame will finish in chub set up right outside the stadium.

Tenter, runners should send an entry form and $4 to the St. Louis Track Club, c/o Tom Eckelman, 7140 Wapman Avenue, University City, Mo. 63130. Entry blanks are available at 6 Cardinals' front official 250 Stadium Plaza and sporting goods outlets in the St. Louis area.

Utility tax is eliminated

Granite City's controversial utility tax bill which would have levied a one-half of 1 percent tax on all gas and electric bills in excess of $100 monthly was voted Tuesday night by veto action of Mayor Paul Schuler.

Mayor Schuler vetoed the special tax bill two weeks ago after Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp., offered to underwrite bonds totaling up to $1.7 million to provide funds that would have been raised by the proposed tax.

Council members approved the tax bill in mid-July after industrial leaders objected strongly to the adoption of such a tax. The tax was intended to raise at least $1.3 million needed to complete construction of the proposed downtown overpass on 19th Street.

Granite City Steel offered to underwrite the bonds to pay for the overpass work with the understanding that the city would abolish the proposed utility tax.

As a result, Mayor Schuler in the council's Aug. 7 meeting, returned the ordinance to the council with his veto, noting that in view of the Granite City Steel offer, the tax no longer was needed.

The aldermen at that time tabled the bill and the veto message. Several aldermen noted that no firm agreements for the bond issue had come before the council and it was better to wait until some confirmation was received before abolishing the tax bill.

Tuesday night, however, Leo Konzen, an attorney representing the steel company, appeared before the council and presented a letter of commitment to the bond issue.

James V. Slack, president of the Granite City Steel Division, noted that agreements are being prepared by attorneys for the steel firm and the city and will be presented to the council for its ratification as soon as they can be completed.

Aldermen Sam Whitmer asked the status of the tax bill which was tabled two weeks ago and City Attorney Lance Callie explained that Tuesday night's meeting was the last chance the council would have to act on the measure before the mayor's veto became effective.

Whitmer commented that he believed the city should have a firm agreement for replacing the tax bill. Mayor Schuler said he believed they had that in the letter which was presented by Konzen.

There were no objections and no move was made to override the mayor's veto.

The statement presented to the council Tuesday night by Konzen said, "As you are all aware, after a meeting between Paul Walter and Eugene West of Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corporation and Mayor Paul Schuler, it was announced that Granite City Steel would assist the city of Granite City in obtaining certain funds deemed necessary by the city of Granite City for the completion of the 19th Street overpass."

The decision by Granite City Steel to assist the city in this project was to give the City Council an alternate to the imposition of a utility tax on gas and electric. The unavailability of the industry in this area to the imposition of such a utility tax required other options to be considered before the final determination of the sources of those funds would be adopted by the council.

"Since that time, representatives of Granite City Steel and the city of Granite City have worked together towards an agreement acceptable to all parties to fulfill this purpose.

"The agreement has not reached such a final stage to permit it to be presented to the council, but both sides are endeavoring to do so as soon as possible. When completed, it will be presented for your ratification and approval."

"This letter is to assure the council of the efforts being made by Granite City Steel and the city of Granite City to consummate this understanding."

"To summarize briefly our general understanding to date, the city of Granite City will issue general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed $1.7 million, maturing over a period of not less than ten (10) years, with Granite City Steel to contribute the funds to pay all interest and principal as the bond issue may require the covenants, terms, coupon rate and maturities of the bond issue may require. The covenants, terms, coupon rate and maturities of the bonds are subject to approval by Granite City Steel."

"Money from the bond issue must be used for constructing the 19th Street overpass, and such agreement shall be in lieu of the imposition of a utility tax."

"It is further understood that, in the event there is imposed by the city a tax upon the consumption of utilities at any time during the term of the bond issue, then Granite City Steel shall be credited against such tax imposed upon it for all payments made on the principal and interest of the bond issue. This right of set-off shall terminate after the expiration of the normal maturity date of the bonds."

"Every endeavor will be made to complete the agreement for submission to the council within the time frame required by the project."

A Granite City doctor of chiropractic has been named to a national panel studying effective methods of caring for accident-related injuries.

The selection of Dr. Ronald Halstead 3717 E. Crossroads, Plaz, was announced at an inference held this weekend. The selection was made in conjunction with his speech to a group of doctors and attorneys attending a California meeting. He was among 100 from throughout the U.S. in attendance.

The conference was, in effect, a national symposium on the expanding role of chiropractic in treatment of individuals involved in work and auto crash injuries.

Dr. Halstead's presentation included discussion of the courtroom role of the doctor of chiropractic, particularly in the area of soft tissue whiplash injury.

"The leader of our profession are currently in a quandary as to what could call a virtual 'explosion' concerning ineffective treatment of auto and on-the-job injuries," Dr. Halstead said.

News notes

More uncertainty was added to the legal problems and U.S. Senate campaign of Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott. Blowing open-heart surgery in Chicago last week Scott was reported to be in condition after a 7-1/2-hour coronary by-pass operation.

Scott tentatively was scheduled to go on trial on five-count indictment charging federal tax evasion in October, although no definite date had been set.

Two bills that would nullify Illinois among the states that already have laws are awaiting Gov. James R. Thompson's signatures. Sunset law have the goal of limiting, if not reducing the cost of local government by eliminating government agencies that perform services no longer needed.

Most dismissed teachers rehired

As the scheduled start of the 1979-80 school year draws closer, the number of dismissed teachers who have been rehired is growing.

Teachers who have been dismissed for reasons such as poor performance, lack of certification, or other administrative reasons are being rehired in large numbers.

The Board of Education decided to close three elementary schools and to consolidate various positions, including administrative jobs.

Including leaves and retirements, those departing grew to 152. But 80 have been called back to fill specific vacancies, meaning that 72 fewer people have School District Nine (Granite City) employment at this time.

After the first week or two of classes, it is typical for projected enrollment figures to be exceeded at some locations, necessitating the hiring of another four to six teachers, educators say.

Of the 197 who received honorable dismissals due to economic "belt tightening" decisions, 63 have been rehired, or otherwise been satisfied through retirements, geographic transfers, leaves or career changes.

The other 44 consist of 29 who lacked tenure and 15 who have tenure and began their work in the district in 1974 or later.

Honorably dismissed who were hired Tuesday night included five given unspecified elementary teaching positions—Peggy Tucker, Lucille Frederick, Lillian Phillips, Lynn Jacobson and Sandra Peterson.

Jerry Faute and Gary Morgan were hired as social workers. Doris Stark through Jan. 18 and elementary teacher Jeanne Francis through June 30.

Retirement was approved for William Snedcor, a Frohardt upper intermediate teacher; Robert Nelson, South mathematics department head; and Loretta Pritchard, Prather cafeteria worker.

Resigning to take other work are Perry Waffler, South music instructor; Walter Padgett, South counselor; and Mark St. Ivany, Coolidge trainable teacher.

South tennis and basketball coaching duties of Pat Yates were ended at his request. The oral deaf teaching assistant position of Elizabeth Hall was terminated.

His remarks will focus on the topic, "Madison School District 12: Its Parents, Its Teachers—Some Things You Ought to Know."

The public is invited to attend the board meeting, according to Charles Collins, Usher Board president, and Mrs. Louise Anderson, vice president.

New Salem Baptist Church is located at 1349 Klein St., Venice.

Employed Tuesday night as GCHS South campus monitors were Phillip Lapinski and Edward Asadarian.

Extensions of illness leaves were authorized for social worker Doris Stark through Jan. 18 and elementary teacher Jeanne Francis through June 30.

Small boy who drank toxic fluid here gets $275,000 settlement

A $275,000 settlement was approved Monday by St. Louis County Presiding Circuit Judge James Ruddy in a lawsuit filed on behalf of Michael D'Angelo, 4 years old, of Jennings, Mo., who suffered permanent brain damage after drinking a fluid used for magic tricks.

The suit was against Sandra L. Root Brazill, who operated the Old Majik Boutique in the 6800 block of West Florissant Avenue, Jennings, where the fluid was bought.

On May 24, 1978, Michael had accompanied his stepfather, Marvin Wolfe, on a trip to Granite City when he drank a substance believed to have contained mercury which he found in a bottle in the glove compartment of the family's auto.

According to testimony by his parents, the stepfather had purchased the fluid to perform a magic trick with aluminum foil.

The trick involved putting some of the liquid on the magician's fingers and rubbing it secretly on the foil, which would then become too hot to handle.

The parents said the bottle of fluid was unmarked and gave no warning that the fluid contained "toxic, dangerous and poisonous" mercury.

After drinking the liquid, the child began coughing and was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Symptoms of other injuries developed quickly and Michael was transferred to St. Louis Children's Hospital.

His condition became critical during the ambulance trip to St. Louis and emergency treatment was required to keep him alive, it was reported at that time.

His mother said Michael remained in the St. Louis hospital for eight weeks, four of them in a coma.

Mrs. Wolfe said in the suit that her son suffered irreversible brain damage, his eyesight has been damaged and may be lost, his hearing is damaged, he is virtually bedridden. There is no hope of recovery, she said.

The $275,000 settlement calls for $150,000 of the money to be divided between investments for the boy's mother, under supervision of the St. Louis County Probate Court, and payment of attorney fees.

The attorney's fees total $90,000, and the investments amount to $40,000.

The rest of the money is to buy an insurance annuity policy to guarantee payments to the mother of $655 monthly for as long as the child lives, starting Oct. 1.

The benefits would end Oct. 1, 1994, if Michael should die before then.

The suit, filed in September, 1978, sought $3 million in damages.

Madison to study own system for cable TV

The Madison City Council at its Tuesday night meeting authorized Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, Mike Mack, city alarm supervisor, and two aldermen to be named later, to visit a city in northern Florida to study the possibility of the City of Madison operating its own cable television system.

According to Mayor Sasyk, the Florida city with a population of 6,000 conducts its own cable television operation.

Some officials maintain that Madison could operate its own system cheaper for the citizens and still provide a source of revenue for the city.

Sasyk did not name the city the delegation is to visit, noting he was not sure the city wants the publicity.

He said the group would fly to Florida one day, then return the next and that the Florida city officials were not willing to go through the entire program with them.

The city has been considering giving a cable television franchise to Southwestern Cable TV, Inc.

Unlike Granite City and Pontoon Beach, the city of Madison wanted to tie into the TV cable a series of burglar, health and smoke safety devices.

A letter read to the council indicated that Southwestern Cable wanted to charge $70,000 set up cost, then $2 per month per resident for the various alarm systems.

"I personally think the cost factor by Southwestern is unreasonable. I think we should make a feasibility study. I think we can lower the cost factor for our taxpayers and make a profit for the city," Sasyk said.

The mayor said after the meeting the system would allow for 12 TV monitors to be placed at surveillance by police.

A copy of a legal complaint from the South Circuit Court was turned over to the legal department. The matter concerns a suit over an auto accident, originally filed

Dec. 29, 1977. The suit which is asking $15,000 damages from Madison County and the City of Madison claims the street light standards at Third Street and McCambridge Avenue were not properly placed to light the intersection.

The council approved a motion for a new auxiliary power generator that is used to deliver power to the police station and fire station in an emergency.

Mayor Sasyk asked that the city attorney to discuss annexation to the city of the houses on the south side of Harris Street.

BURGLARY

Dave Thomas, Apartment 1B, Melvin Drive, discovered that between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Tuesday a door lock was forced and his apartment entered. Items taken included a color television valued at $750, plus watches and money valued at $250.

The mayor said after the meeting the system would allow for 12 TV monitors to be placed at surveillance by police.

Realtors introduce new marketing-growth plan

A highlight of the Gallery of Homes semi-annual convention held in St. Louis was the announcement of a new marketing-growth plan, according to Herman Schroeder, owner of Granite City Realty, Gallery of Homes.

Schroeder reported that Gallery's new marketing plan will result in growth and increased member services which will enable Gallery of Homes brokers to better serve the real estate public. "Gallery of Homes will continue to recruit only quality brokers," Schroeder said. "We do not want to play the numbers game, and we are not interested in becoming the largest real estate franchise in terms of numbers of licensees."

Douglas Edwards, a CBS news correspondent for over three decades, addressed delegates at the opening session of the convention of "What's Right With America." Edwards said that despite the impression Americans may get from watching the news, there are many things right with America — things that often don't make the news.

One of the convention sessions was the installation of the John T. Nothnagle Knights of the Round Table. Awards were presented to some 170 Gallery of Homes sales counselors earning in excess of $25,000 in residential real estate sales commissions. Presiding over the ceremonies were Raymond A. Nothnagle, chairman of the board, and Thomas F. Jenkins, president.

Guest speakers during the five-day convention included Dave Yoho, lecturer in sales and motivational psychology; Dr. Milton R. Rubin, expert in motivational and organizational development; Don Edwards, co-developer of "The Time Bank System;" and Dr. Arnold G. Abrams, lecturer on body language and interpersonal communication. Donald I. Hovde, president of the National Association of Realtors, addressed the delegates briefly.

In addition to the general sessions, delegates participated in workshops and visited exhibit, videotape viewing, and consultation areas.

In addition to Schroeder, those attending the convention from Granite City Realty, Gallery of Homes, were: Ginny Risenhoover, Bill Hoffman, Barbara Wyatt, John Blasingame and Fred King. Barb Wyatt and Bill Hoffman served as goodwill ambassadors greeting gallery members at the airport while Ginny Risenhoover was the hospitality hostess at the Sheraton St. Louis Hotel where most of the delegates stayed. Blasingame and Schroeder moderated two-hour sessions for broker-managers and owner-principals respectively.

The gathering was one of two semi-annual conventions held each year by Gallery of Homes, Inc., the nation's oldest residential real estate franchise organization.

Less federal funds in prospect

By ROBERT ESTILL

Press-Record
Washington Bureau

When this Congress takes its winter recess, it probably can count on a chilly send-off from state officials whose job is to pry loose federal dollars.

This has been billed as an "oversight" Congress, one more bent on reviewing and trimming old programs than creating new ones.

It has not always succeeded in that laudable goal, but much of the reduction that has been accomplished is at the expense of state and local governments.

The state of Illinois, as a whole, probably will not do as well in terms of federal dollars pumped into the Prairie State as it did last year, predicts Catherine "Ade" Randlett, deputy director of the state office here.

Last year, there were at least a few major showpieces. Congress authorized a new dam on the Mississippi River near Alton, boosted funding for bridge replacement and included on a list of priority projects two major roads — U.S. 51 between Rockford and Deatur and the Peoria-to-Quincy segment of the Chicago-Kansas City expressway.

This time, there are no such major chunks of Illinois pork in the congressional barrel.

For Illinois officials, it is a year when a holding action is a victory.

The big "Plus" is that federal revenue sharing was spared the axe — at least for this year. Revenue sharing provides the Illinois state government with about $14 million that it channels to education, and about double that amount goes to city, county and township governments in the state.

But Illinois is among states that will suffer some substantial setbacks.

For two years, the Illinois office has joined in what has been a successful fight to keep the Department of Health, Education and Welfare from placing a 12-month deadline on claims for federal reimbursements for public assistance, Medicaid and Social Services.

This year it lost the fight. Because of the time it takes to process and negotiate claims with providers of services, Illinois will lose about $30 million in the 1980 fiscal year and $8 million to $10 million in succeeding years, Randlett said.

An expected cut of about $200 million nationally in Law Enforcement assistance administration funds will mean a loss of millions of dollars to law enforcement agencies in the state, she noted.

Comprehensive employment training act funds may be only about two-thirds of what President Carter requested. However, the state hopes to live with the scaled-down CETA funding by eliminating job slots through attrition, not by firing people, she said.

Randlett believes it is no accident that many of the spending cuts are aimed at state coffers.

Congress has resented pressures from the states for a constitutional amendment requiring a balanced federal budget, particularly when some states (not Illinois) are able to build surpluses in their own coffers with federal funds.

"In many instances, I think Congress has ignored the fact that cuts at the state level ultimately mean cuts at the local level," Randlett said.

"Although the efforts to cut off revenue sharing failed, that was the idea there (to cut the states). They forget that, in Illinois, all that money goes to the locals."

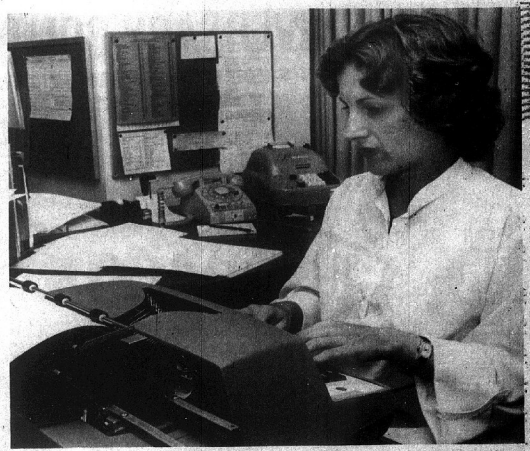

There are tempting political reasons, of course, for Congress to want to cut programs such as revenue sharing.

"Frankly, it is not a bad rationale from the viewpoint of a Congressman," said Randlett.

"He has got to cut somewhere. This is a program with a political constituency meaning elected officials but not individual constituents."

"A child whose school payments are increased because of revenue sharing does not know it. A man whose property taxes have not been increased because of revenue sharing does not know it. There is no personal identification. It is not a sexy program."

Withheld tax may not meet bill for couples

Working couples, especially those with few or no dependents, more often than not will owe tax when they file their annual tax return, unless they have paid additional taxes during the year, the Internal Revenue Service notes.

The reason for owing additional tax is the withholding rates. They are based solely on each individual's wages, and do not take a spouse's wages into account. The withholding rate is lower for married persons than for anyone else.

For example, the highest tax rate applicable to a couple filing a joint return with only one wage earner making $26,000 is up to 32 percent. The withholding would be adequate. But a working couple — one spouse with total wages of $10,000 and the other with total wages of $16,000 — might have insufficient withholding to cover the tax rate on their combined total wages of $26,000.

There are several alternatives for a working couple to combat a large tax bill at filing time.

Generally, filing separate returns is not the answer, because those rates are higher still, according to the IRS. Yet it is good tax planning to consider the possibility. Filing separately might be a tax advantage, but it is not, there are two other choices.

One way to confront underwithholding is to pay the additional tax by means of estimated taxes. This means that the amount if paid in quarterly installments directly to the IRS using vouchers that come with Form 1040-ES, "Declaration of Estimated Tax for Individuals."

Another choice is to file a revised Form W-4, "Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," with the employer claiming fewer or no allowances or requesting additional withholding. Also, married taxpayers may choose to have taxes withheld as if they were single. Both Forms 1040-ES and W-4 are available from local IRS offices. Most employers have supplies of Form W-4.

While most employers are willing to honor the wishes of employees by withholding additional income tax, they are under no obligation to do so. If an employer refuses to withhold additional tax, the best choice then may be to pay estimated tax.

Additional information may be found in the IRS Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," available free at local IRS offices.

100th Symphony year

A season that happens once in a hundred years will begin with a splash of champagne, birthday cake and bass drums when 13 internationally known guest artists and new Music Director Leonard Slatkin take the stage of Powell Symphony Hall. The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will kick off its 100th anniversary season in a special opening concert at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 8.

Television personality David Hartman ("Good Morning, America") will serve as master of ceremonies for the star-studded, three-part extravaganza with a host of longtime St. Louis Symphony friends, all of whom have donated their services for his tribute to the nation's second-oldest orchestra.

Special guests for the evening include renegade musician Peter Schickele (P.D.Q. Bach), conductor-composer John Williams ("Dracula"), "Star Wars" and "Jaws" fame, pianist John Browning, Emanuel Ax and Jeffrey Siegel, violinist Jaime Laredo.

Also, cellists Zara Nelsova and Eleanor Allen Slatkin, singers Claudine Carlson, Seth McCoy, Benita Valente, Arnold Volkeltis and Jane Marie Kamp, the St. Louis Symphony Chorus and the St. Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra Brass.

The first third of the program will include Bach's Concerto in C Major for Claviers and Orchestra to be performed by Browning, Ax and Siegel.

The second third of the program will feature mezzo-soprano Claudine Carlson and tenor Seth McCoy in selections from Saint-Saens' "Samson et Dalila" and Strauss' "Der osekavaler," along with two madrigals by the famous de-composer P.D.Q. Bach.

In addition, Williams will lead the orchestra in selections from one of his latest film scores, "Superman." And the orchestra will also perform the "St. Louis Symphony March," a work composed by the Symphony's third music director, Rudolph Ganz.

For the fanfare to the program, all the members of the St. Louis Symphony, the Symphony Chorus, the Symphony Youth Orchestra Brass plus all the concert soloists will assemble on stage with Slatkin for the "big bang": a performance of Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture," in which the soloists will perform the cannon parts on bass drums.

A festive atmosphere of red carpets and colorful banners amidst the natural gilt and velvet will adorn Powell Symphony Hall for the event.

Following the performance, concertgoers will attend a free 100th anniversary champagne and birthday cake reception in the grand foyer.

This concert will mark the first official appearance by 35-year-old Slatkin as music director.

A native of Los Angeles, Slatkin made his St. Louis debut in 1968 as assistant conductor of the St. Louis Symphony, and has since conducted most of the great orchestras of the world, including the New York Philharmonic, the Chicago Symphony, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Concertgebouw Orchestra, the London Philharmonic and orchestras in the U.S.S.R.

Most recently, he served as music director of the New Orleans Philharmonic and principal guest conductor of the Minnesota Orchestra.

Last year, he received the distinction of being nominated for two Grammy Awards for recordings made with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. Prokofiev's "Alexander Nevsky" and Rachmaninoff's Symphony No. 1.

Now in its centennial season, the St. Louis Symphony is America's second-oldest symphony orchestra. Founded in 1880 by a young German organist named LEONARD SLATKIN, St. Louis Symphony Orchestra music director and conductor.

Joseph Otten, the Symphony has a tradition that has persevered continuously through three performing halls, 10 music directors and a multiplicity of renowned guest conductors and soloists.

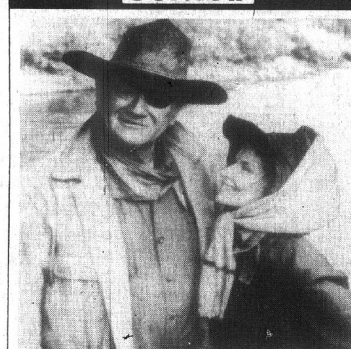

The orchestra currently has 101 members and performs 52 weeks a year. Last year, the orchestra was invited to represent the U.S. at the Athens Festival in Greece and, with the St. Louis Symphony Chorus, received a total of three Grammy Award nominations.

Tickets for the centennial celebration are priced from $5.50 to $16 and are currently available through the Powell Symphony Hall box office (Grand at Delmar, phone: 314-534-1700) or any suburban symphony ticket outlet, including the American Heritage Bank in Granite City.

Set income policy on free milk, meals in area schools

Public School Districts and parochial schools of the Quad-City area have announced a policy for free milk and free meals or reduced meal prices for children unable to pay for full price of meals and milk service under the national School Lunch, School Breakfast and Special Milk programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family of one, family income of $4,590 for free meals and free milk, and family income up to $7,160 for reduced price meals; family of two, $6,040 income for meals and milk and $9,420 income for reduced price meals; family of three, $7,490 and $11,080; family of four, $8,940 and $13,940; five, $10,390 and $16,200; six, $11,840 and $18,470; seven, $13,290 and $20,730; and eight, $14,740 and $22,990.

For each additional family member above eight, $1,450 should be added to the income criteria for free meals and milk, and $2,360 added for reduced price meals.

The policy will apply to Granite City School District 9, Madison School District 12 and Venice School District 3. Also to Sacred Heart, St. Elizabeth, St. Margaret Mary and St. Mary's parochial schools.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free milk and free meals or reduced price meals.

In addition, families that do not meet these criteria but have expenses such as unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application must contain a statement about the space for signature certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct.

An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of federal funds, that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and criminal statutes.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for free milk and free or reduced price meals for them, the family should contact the school. If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals and milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of his or her race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, the building principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he or she may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he or she wishes to make a formal appeal, he or she may make a request either orally or in writing to the superintendent of schools for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

Each school and the office of the superintendent has a copy of the complete policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

Ernest A. Tosovsky, president of Home Nursery Greenhouse, Inc., Edwardsville, and well known here, has stepped down as president of the American Association of Nurserymen at the end of a successful convention in Atlanta. It attracted over 5,000 nursery businessmen and women from around the country.

Tosovsky presided over the August meeting which, for the first time in history, was held in conjunction with the Southern Nurserymen's Association Trade Show. He shared chairman duties with William J. Park, president of the SNA.

Prior to his election as chief officer of the National association, Tosovsky served as the organization's treasurer and director of Region 3, representing member nursery firms in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and Ontario.

Tosovsky has been affiliated with Home Nursery Greenhouses, established in 1951, for nearly 30 years. Both he and his wife, Betty, were born and raised in Edwardsville. A graduate of Edwardsville High School, Tosovsky studied horticulture for two years at the University of Illinois and one year at Washington University.

He was president of the Illinois State Nurserymen's Association and treasurer of the Madison and St. Clair County Nurserymen's Association.

In addition to numerous business activities, Tosovsky is active in the Edwardsville Rotary Club, having been its president in 1969. He has served on the Chamber of Commerce board and the School Board there and has been chairman of the city's Park Board. His late father was district Rotary governor.

The Tosovskys have three children and reside in Edwardsville. He was succeeded as president of the 2,900-member association by Hugh Stevenson, Forrest Keeling Nursery, Elsberry, Mo.

Tosovsky will serve another year on the board as director-at-large. The American Association of Nurserymen, headquartered in Washington, D.C., serves garden center operators, wholesale growers, landscape firms, mail order nurseries and allied suppliers with management information, legislative efforts, public relations and chandising assistance.

Choking attempt alleged by man

Ray Valencia, 1741 Bremen Ave., met police Monday in the parking lot at the International House of Pancakes, Pontoon and Namecki roads, and reported a man had attempted to choke him while he was visiting the latter's home in the 2500 block of Spaulding Avenue.

Valencia said an argument ensued over a $30 watch belonging to the man and the choking incident followed. He had freed himself with the aid of a friend and then walked to the restaurant area, he told police.

He was advised to call a complaint with the state's attorney's office.

In response to a call, an officer went to Valencia's home one hour later and talked with the man who allegedly was involved in the choking incident.

My new bathroom—a shaggy dog story

It was an ordinary Sunday afternoon. The kids were still at Sunday school and I had a good start of the mountain of laundry that I must confront every three days. I went into my bathroom and went haywire.

I took a look around the cubicle that houses my conveniences and decided I hated it. I hated the wallpaper and I hated the walls.

One should be able to look at one's self in the morning in that room. There's a rule about mirrors in bathrooms written somewhere. I had to do something about the awful wallpaper that earlier I just HAD to have, and the fact that I had never seen the back of my hairdo.

I got these notions to change things around quite often. I know not why; could be something to do with the loose screw that is supposed to secure my brain. When I got that urge, nothing can stop me from going mad.

So I went crazy; my bath was going to take on a new look that day. I never do anything half way, and once I start a task it is finished the same day, no matter what its size.

I attacked, pulling red, white and blue contact paper from the walls. You know nothing until you know the joy of removing paper from walls.

I worked furiously, tossing the sticky paper all over the place. One rather large chunk drifted onto the back of my shaggy little dog, and he began running up and down the hall, trying desperately to free himself of it.

I was forced to stop in my frenzy and help depaper the animal—no small task, but necessary for the dog's sanity.

The boys wandered in as I worked and turned tail and ran for the door. They are too smart to be caught in a help Mom situation. They didn't come back for hours.

I stole the mirror tiles from another room and put them up where some of the paper had been. The result was that look of more space.

Mirrors are what everybody does as an excuse for tiny rooms.

Then I painted the remaining bareness dark red. Very dramatic. Then I cleaned and scrubbed the entire room, hung curtains and put down a clean rug.

My bath was beautiful. I was a mess, and it took me a full week to recover. I'll never understand why I do these things to myself.

I guess I just have to go a little haywire, once in a while. How else does one keep one's self together?

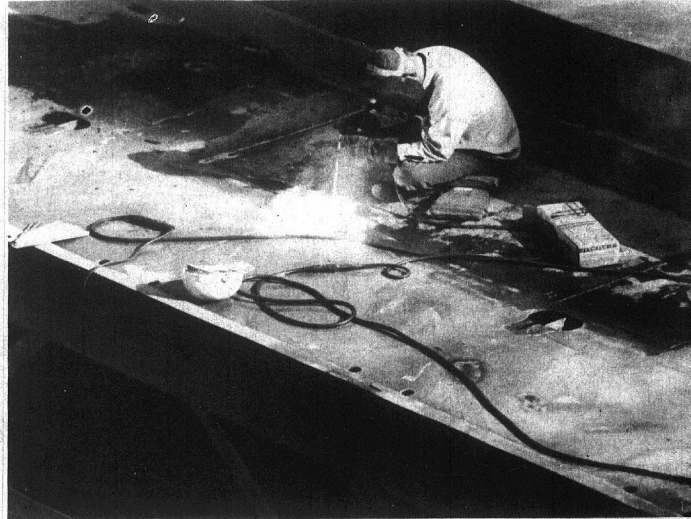

Must stop for halted school buses

Harold E. Briggs, Madison County regional superintendent of schools, has reminded drivers of the state law that requires the driver of a vehicle upon a highway upon meeting or overtaking from either direction, any school bus which has stopped for the purpose of loading or unloading pupils, shall stop the vehicle before reaching the school bus when there is in operation on the school bus the extended stop signal arm and the flashing red signal lamps.

The driver shall not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or the driver of the vehicle is signaled by the school bus driver to proceed or the visual signals are no longer actuated.

"The safe transportation of our student population is very important to all concerned," Briggs said.

"Therefore, the regional superintendent's office would like to take this opportunity to say Thank You to the school bus drivers in Madison County who have done such a commendable job in transporting our boys and girls over the years."

LOCK REPAIRS. An Army Corps of Engineers welder Friday morning works atop the north lift gate of the 1,200-foot main lock at Granite City Locks No. 27 on the southern end of the Chain of Rocks Canal. The worker is welding

Program aids SIUE newcomers

Entering a university can be a frightening experience for a new freshman who is suddenly "the new kid in school" once again.

The New Student Life Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville takes some of the fright out of the experience for the "new kids."

Incoming freshmen are given the opportunity to experience college life for two days the summer before they start school. They stay at the Tower Lake Apartment complex during the program and are assigned a New Student Life adviser who becomes their guide, chaperone, and friend.

The two days at the university are filled with tours, information, and more information. Students who plan to move to campus are instructed in housing procedures and those who plan to commute learn the ropes of commuting.

The college classroom, professors, testing, term papers, and studying are discussed, as well as available extracurricular activities on campus.

The freshmen are also given a headstart on the sometimes frustrating registration process. The process is thoroughly explained to them, and academic advisers help them choose classes for their first quarter's work.

Opinions of the orientation by the new freshmen generally are very good as they also develop a variety of views of the campus during their stay.

"If I had not come, I'd be totally lost," said Keith Pickler, 18, of Belleville, who was one of the first students to complete the New Student Life Program this summer.

The future accounting major said he liked SIUE "a lot" and chose to come to the university because "it offers more" in the business area.

Brian Bruckert, 17, of Bunker Hill, enjoyed the program and especially liked the Bubble Gym (athletic facility), but did have one small criticism for the structure. "It needs air-conditioning."

The freshman plans to study meteorology at SIUE and chose to attend the school because of its close proximity to his home and the many friends who will also be attending.

"I know I'll know my way around the place when I start," was Ron Yociss' feeling after completing the orientation program.

"I feel a lot better coming to college," said the 18-year-old Belleville resident, although he did admit a little nervousness about starting school. "It's going to be different hard. But I'm ready," he said.

Jan McIntyre, 18, of Spanish Lake, Mo., had visited the campus on previous occasions when she was selected as one of 20 presidential scholars at the University for the coming year.

The student enjoyed staying at Tower Lake, where she will be living in the fall. "It was neat seeing what it was really like," she said of her experience.

She said she has always wanted to attend SIUE. "I like the atmosphere... They have a really good business department (the field she will be studying, along with psychology)."

The student is looking forward to starting school in the fall but did admit to a few freshman jitters. "I'm a little scared about classes. I'll be more scared when it's really time to come," she said.

The familiar response, "I would have been lost without it," was echoed by Roland

Fricke, 17, of Belleville, when asked to comment on the orientation program.

He viewed SIUE as "a nice campus," but said he was a "little scared" about starting college because the school is "so big."

Fricke plans to major in accounting.

One incoming freshman who had no fear about starting school was Dorothy Harrell of East St. Louis. She said she is returning to school to study human services because "all my children are growing up."

Although Mrs. Harrell's daughter, who also attends the school, persuaded her mother to attend SIUE.

Although Mrs. Harrell is not nervous about starting classes, she did appreciate the New Student Life Program because, "It helps you learn your way around," she said.

"I was impressed," was Jo Anna Ivester's reaction to the orientation program.

The 18-year-old freshman from Fairview Heights plans to take her general studies courses at SIUE before transferring to SIUE Carbondale to study landscape architecture.

After touring the campus, the student said she was most impressed with Tower Lake and the Mississippi River Festival.

Chris Richey, 18, of Auburn, appreciated the advice he received during the program about selecting classes for the fall.

Richey will be receiving much more individual counseling since he was chosen as a presidential scholar for the coming year. He will be a member of the Dean's College and receive special advice from his presidential scholar mentor in the government and public affairs field.

Richey said he is looking forward to starting school with some reservation of "the whole idea of the new kid on campus."

The New Student Life Program should help these "new kids" to not feel so new.

Airborne training for women

"U.S. Army airborne training is no longer just for men," according to Lieutenant Colonel John B. Sharp, U.S. Army St. Louis District Recruiting commander. "Hundreds of Army women have taken the airborne training course and are now airborne-qualified soldiers."

The Army has opened all training and career areas except combat specialties to women. "Airborne training is just one of the areas where women soldiers are pioneering," Lt. Col. Sharp said.

Women have taken an active role in military police, mechanics, communications, nursing, maintenance and other support skills in airborne divisions. "All parachute riggers must be airborne-qualified."

Airborne training is strictly voluntary. Every trainee is there because he or she has requested it, he noted.

The program is a three-week course. The first week involves physical training and conditioning as well as ground school courses. The second week continues the physical conditioning and includes practice jumps from 34- and 250-foot jump towers.

During the third week, airborne trainees satisfy graduation requirements by making five jumps from an airplane.

Venice student to enter Monmouth

James Heard of Venice will enroll at Monmouth College in September as a member of the 127th entering class of the liberal arts institution.

Heard, a May graduate of Madison High School, is the son of Mrs. Christine Heard, 540 Mercedia Ave., Venice. Heard was a member of National Honor Society and a standout athlete. He was named to all-area teams in basketball and track, and he was twice named to all-state basketball teams.

Although he played in only two football games his senior year, he gained 500 yards rushing and 418 yards in pass receptions during those three games.

An orientation period for all new students will begin Friday, Sept. 7, and continue through the weekend as freshmen and transfer students participate in group activities, meet with faculty advisers and get acquainted with the campus and the community. Fall term classes begin Monday, Sept. 10.

APARTMENT LOOTED

Burglars escaped with loot valued at $2,400 to $3,000 at the apartment of Clarence O. Linton, 26 Fairway Estates, it was reported to the Madison County Sheriff's Department at 4:30 p.m. Friday. Deputies said there was no indication of forced entry, but the thieves made off with a valuable coin collection, a reel-to-reel tape player, a television set, a recorder, a watch and other jewelry.

RE/MAX IS HERE!

DON MARCUS — Manager
"I had heard about RE/MAX while out on the West Coast — An organization where sales agents pay monthly expenses — but keep 100% of the sales commission."
RE/MAX is a unique program in that it offers top producers, people that create their own business, a chance to be their own boss. This program gives them the opportunity to set and obtain their own goals; plus, a voice in the operation of their company. These things, all grouped together, tell me that RE/MAX is a professional office with professionals.
Well, the way I figured it, RE/MAX was my dream come true. A chance to be my own boss, an opportunity to set my own goals, to work my hours, and most of all, to collect 100% of what I earned. Perhaps RE/MAX is for you — I suggest you get the facts from RE/MAX, then make your decision to come aboard. It could be YOUR — dream come true."
